

Venus and Your Heart's Desire

What are Love Signs?

A Love Sign is the Zodiac Sign that Venus was in at the time of your birth. Venus is famously known as the Goddess of Love, hence the name.

Venus represents the qualities of love, romance, sensuality, culture, beauty, affection and social appeal. The Planet Venus is therefore very prominent in aspects of love; influencing how you attract love as well as how you act in a relationship.

Sometimes a person's Venus Sign will be the same as their Sun Sign, but it may also be different. Your Venus Love Sign is never more than two signs away from your Sun Sign. By reading your Love Sign interpretation you may find answers to why you act so differently than your Sun Sign dictates when you are in love. You'll notice when you fall in love that these attributes become more noticeable.

Venus Love Signs Each of the four elements found in the Zodiac will also influence your Venus Sign. Aries, Leo and Sagittarius are all Fire Signs, Taurus, Virgo and Capricorn are Earth Signs, Gemini, Libra and Aquarius are Air Signs and Cancer, Scorpio and Pisces are Water Signs. Each Sign in an Element takes a different angle on the general ways we interact with others. For example, Fire Signs all seem to have a dramatic flair, tend to initiate things, and are demonstrative. Earth Signs, on the other hand, seem to be more possessive, focused and steady. Air Signs tend to be intellectual, poetic and versatile, while Water Signs tend to be sensitive, sentimental and idealistic. Each individual Sign within these elements take these generalized characteristics and put their own twist to them. Take a look at how you behave when you're in love... you'll see aspects of yourself you may not have understood before.

Heart with Birth Chart You may think that all the characteristics for your Venus love Sign do not fit you. Perhaps that is true. Remember, each of your Signs is tempered by the others. If you really look at yourself and how you behave, you are sure to find at least some of the characteristics for your Love Sign that describes you to a tee and hopefully you'll understand why you do the things you do in the name of love.

Aries Venus

Venus Aries

Aries Venus is a daring flirt. Subtlety is not for them. Instead of shyly hoping you'll notice them, they will try to impress you by letting you know about their accomplishments. They are a bit self-centered, but the right person will find this endearing. Their innocent charm comes through even though they may be acting like a spoiled child. They are impulsive, impatient and passionate...in all areas the word for Aries Venus is "intense."

Those born with Venus in Aries can bring a childlike wonder to romance. They love to be active and energetic. They don't appreciate a "mature," vague or coy relationship. They love the chase and initial conquest. In order to keep their attention, you need to step it up to keep it new and fresh. They prefer their partner to be open and honest with them. They don't like playing games unless they're fun. Spontaneity adds fuel to their fire, and they'd rather be playful than serious. They like to lead, so be prepared to follow, at least most of the time. They will compete with you as fast as they will with anyone else. They don't like to lose when competing for someone's affections, and when they lose, they may be very irritable or moody.

Aries Venus falls fast and they are impulsive, so they can easily be attracted to many types of people. They get bored easily, and can lose interest just as quickly as they fell in love. They are very affectionate. If they get hurt, they are not afraid to stand up for themselves. When paired with a shyer soul, they can be a bit overwhelming. They like to have a little tension in a relationship to keep the excitement going... it creates that mental stimulation to spark their interest.

In friendship, Aries Venus likes to be the alpha personality in the group. They are generous, exciting and confident. They are not afraid to push the envelope just to see what happens. They are direct and honest, and won't try to pull the wool over your eyes. They have no patience with self-pity and insecurity. Those born with Venus in Aries are admired because of their independence, confidence and sheer energy. They have a lust for life that makes them attractive. Instead of talking about what they want to do, they're out there doing it.

The fastest way to turn off an Aries Venus is to make them read your mind or analyze a relationship. This is too much digging into the mind for this sign. They much prefer to be active and dynamic. They would prefer a good rousing fight to a heart to heart talk about where the relationship should go.

If a Venus in Aries person can learn a little patience and tolerance, they can find that everyone does not get boring after ten minutes. They need to learn to put the work into a relationship so it can be long term and satisfying for both partners. Drama doesn't have to be on the level of Mount Vesuvius, lesser amounts of excitement can add interest, too. If Aries Venus stops for a moment and truly figures out what they really want, they will have a much easier time attaining their desire.

Taurus Venus

Venus Taurus

Taurus Venus loves their creature comforts. They prefer to indulge the five senses. Their idea of the ideal evening would be a comfortable location, great food and drink, soft music and a lot of alone time for the two of you. They appear solid and comfortable. They need dependability and predictability in their relationships. They can be rather possessive of their partners and may feel threatened in fast, high-energy situations. They need a lot physical expression of love from their partner.

Those born with Venus in Taurus may resist change and appear to be a little too comfortable or settled, but their partners can take comfort in the fact that they are loyal and constant in their devotion. They appreciate your loyalty in return. They don't like to be pushed around. They can feel jealous and can act overbearing with their partner when they feel threatened.

A Venus in Taurus person doesn't like a lot of drama in their life, and they tend to stay away from players and superficial people. They bond through tactile methods...they like to hold hands, give massages and other physical pleasures.

As a friend, Taurus Venus likes to hang out when they have access to plenty of goodies to indulge in. They will show up when you need help moving or painting the house, especially if there is time afterwards for a bite and some conversation. They are a dependable friend and will be there for you when you need them most.

Taurus Venus is a cuddly person. This is attractive to anyone who is looking for a long term, stable relationship. They offer long lasting devotion, respect and an earthy sensuality. For those who truly want to win the heart of a person with Venus in Taurus, they must be patient and let things unfold naturally. You must show your own dependability to them, and be willing to settle for a simple calmness to your life together.

Taurus Venus may seem conventional, but they have a strong sense of commitment. They are romantic, but not in a frilly way. They prefer to indulge their partner in simple luxuries, like a fine chocolate or a good massage. They are practical and take their relationships seriously. They want security, and seek out a partner who can help them achieve that. A person with Venus in Taurus places this security as more important than emotional or spiritual needs. This may cause them to miss the nuances of a relationship, which can be a source of frustration for them.

Taurus Venus is usually good with their personal resources. They don't feel it is necessary to rush or get stressed over most situations. They don't like change unless it is necessary. They may be talented in the arts or music.

The Venus in Taurus person has a very well-developed taste for simple, fine living. They are fun to be around and know how to have a good time. They are usually cheerful and easy to get along with. The appetite for sensual gratification extends to the bedroom, where Taurus Venus treats intimacy with the same care a chef uses when preparing a fine meal.

Gemini Venus

Venus Gemini

Gemini Venus is adept in witty conversation, and will use this ability as a tool to attract others. They are able to converse knowledgeably on a wide variety of subjects. They are playful and may be a little bit of a tease. They prefer a more stimulating relationship to a comfortable one. They don't like to be tied down, and want their relationships to be light-hearted. While they can talk endlessly about their relationship, they may still be skipping over the deeper issues.

Gemini Venus likes variety, and their tastes frequently change. It may be difficult to keep up with what they want. If you are courting a person with Venus in Gemini, you need to support their need for variety and fun, as well as be interested in their mind. They also appreciate space to hang out with their friends without you.

Gemini Venus is a natural flirt and they have a way of making people think of how much fun they'll have with this sign. They may not always divulge the entire truth, but they are not really dishonest. They are more likely to commit a crime of omission rather than lie. Alternatively, they have the ability to see all the possible answers to a question, and may just take the one that seems suitable at the time. They may be seen as insincere, but this is seldom true.

Gemini Venus is not very sentimental, but they can turn a good phrase. They want someone they can share ideas with and that they can create a true partnership with. For a person with Venus in Gemini, a good conversation is the best form of foreplay. Some may consider them rather insubstantial, but they really just want to have an interesting relationship. Due to their social nature, anyone wanting a relationship with them will have to share the interest in social gatherings. They are curious about everything and everyone. They dislike coarse behavior, and expect those they spend time with to have manners and know how to uphold their end of a conversation.

Gemini Venus may end up traveling a lot. They are rather child-like in their approach to love, and have a lot of charm. Be prepared, because they will analyze every little thing in a relationship.

As a friend, Gemini Venus is fun and full of life. They always know the latest gossip and what event is next on the calendar. They are spontaneous and have a large network of friends. If you want a best buddy who will only hang out with you, Gemini Venus is not the right choice.

They are attractive because they are bright and good-natured. They are easy to spend time with, and know how to add wit to the conversation. They use humor naturally. If you fall in love with a person who has Venus in Gemini, you will need to have a lot of knowledge about many topics to keep the conversation sparkling. You'll need to be flexible and spontaneous, and you must subscribe to the notion that variety is the spice of life.

Cancer Venus

Venus Cancer

Cancer Venus wants a committed, predictable relationship. They are sensitive and crave security, comfort and love. They show their love for their partner by taking care of them. They are more attentive to their partner's feelings than their words. They may be a bit moody, and may resort to pouting or the silent treatment to get attention. They don't like a lot of rationalization and they don't like impersonal treatment. Emotional confrontations don't scare them at all, yet they are frequently afraid they will be left. Cancer Venus has a long memory, and it is difficult for them to forget an injury. Sometimes they will retreat into themselves, and it can be difficult to get them to come back out into the open.

A Venus in Cancer person loves to snuggle and they appreciate sentimental gestures. They are closely attached to their home and family. Rejection is one of their biggest fears, and they can try some very frustrating ploys to find out if you love them or not. They need to feel secure and cared for. When these needs are met, they are patient, loving and dependable. They insist on sincerity from their partner, and will amaze you with how well they can remember every word you say or every thing you do.

The Venus in Cancer person is very intuitive, and they find it easy to read your character and feelings. They will care for you accordingly. This can be comforting or intimidating, depending on how their partner reacts to this ability. While they are not always aware of their own charm, they can be very attractive to the opposite sex. Cancer Venus is attracted to those who need them, and they may end up making sure their loved ones continue to need them.

Cancer Venus is very sensitive and they react emotionally to any circumstance. They can be hurt easily, even though they tend to hide this vulnerability behind their dignity. They are good listeners. They tend to be cautious in love because they are trying to protect themselves.

As a friend, Cancer Venus is adept at creating a second family out of their friends. They enjoy creating new traditions, and are usually very thoughtful about birthdays and holiday celebrations. They are loyal and like to keep in touch, no matter what the distance. They are good at nurturing their friends, although if they get hurt emotionally, they can find it difficult to trust again. They are very impressionable, and may end up picking up on the mood of the person they are spending time with.

Cancer Venus is creative, and can express this through the arts, through healing or through relationships. They like to use their creativity in nurturing others.

Cancer Venus looks like someone with a big heart. This is very attractive to others. They also appear wise and are surrounded by a warmth that wraps around those surrounding them. Once they trust someone, they are very affectionate.

If you are attracted to a person with Venus in Cancer, you want to take your time. Don't be too direct with them. They may appear aloof, but they are actually observing everything you do. They appreciate the effort someone takes in preparing a meal or doing something thoughtful. They do not like being around those who are fighting inner demons or who have other issues.

Leo Venus

Venus Leo

Leo Venus likes to brag about their relationship. They can be demanding of their partner because they love to be courted and have a need to feel special. Warm and generous, the Venus in Leo person is very loyal, although they still enjoy attention from the opposite sex. They are Leo, after all! They will tell their partner about all the flirtations...they want to brag about it! Chances are the flirtations are harmless. If you have an innocent flirtation however, watch out! Leo Venus will not be happy about it.

Leo Venus has high expectations of their partner, though as long as they know your attention is on them, they are very generous. If their relationship seems stale or settled, they may feel threatened. Being treated indifferently or impersonally also makes them feel insecure.

While sex is important for the person with Venus in Leo, feeling loved is even more so. They have difficulty separating the two. They need to know how wonderful they are. If you respect and appreciate them, they will never lose interest in you. You may need to give them little reminders once in awhile that your feelings matter, too. If you are feeling jealous, let them know. This affirms that you still find them attractive. They are enamored of that first stage of love when two people can't get enough of each other and want it to last forever.

The Venus in Leo person is affectionate and adoring. They may hang onto a relationship much longer than they should because they have invested their ego into it. They are a born romantic and love to play up their emotions. If they are not confident in themselves in love, they are good at faking it. They love to be given the royal treatment on a date.

In friendship, Leo Venus is attracted to colorful people. They don't feel much interest in those who appear dull or lifeless. They make generous friends who will cheer you on in all your endeavors. They like to plan elaborate celebrations and like children.

Leo Venus is a wonderful performer, but they also do well behind the scenes. They like being in the spotlight and don't like to be isolated. They have a courage that allows them to take charge and shine. They have a great imagination. They have a lust for life that guarantees a lifetime of fun, romance and excitement. They like to live lavishly and demand attention. They have a sunny, outgoing personality that attracts many friends, acquaintances and lovers. They are not too concerned about what others think of them. They are easy to forgive. They tend to listen to their heart and don't bother to lower themselves to the level that others may be showing.

If you are attracted to a Leo Venus, they like to show off and be the center of attention. They need to know they are attractive and appreciated. Be thoughtful and show how much you care about them through your gestures. They like to be social and part of the crowd, so be prepared to spend time out and about, not sitting at home.

Virgo Venus

Venus Virgo

Virgo Venus is not the flirtatious kind. They are willing to work on their relationships and dedicate themselves to make them work. They aren't out to show off or impress anyone. While they don't shower their partner with showy gifts, they may actually be more generous with gifts of devotion.

Virgo Venus will quietly work their way into your heart. They are sensitive, if a little insecure, and many people find this reserved loner very attractive. They usually play it safe and they must know that you like them before they'll make the tiniest move. They are great listeners, and they spend time observing your habits and reactions so they know all the ins and outs of your personality. Like a small child with a crush, they may indicate their interest by being a nuisance. When they criticize, they are not trying to hurt you; however... they are trying to help! They are turned off by boastful people or those who appear to know it all.

To make a Venus in Virgo person happy, show them how much you appreciate all the little things they do for you. They will do a whole lot for their partner in small, quiet ways that are not always noticed. They may need a little space once in awhile. Don't be overbearing or superficial. Virgo Venus really isn't hard to please as long as these basics are addressed. Don't push them into meeting everyone in your address book too quickly. They are shy and not really crowd people. Let them know how valuable they are to you...this means a lot to them. They really pay attention to your needs, so by showing your appreciation, you are meeting their needs.

The Venus in Virgo person does not jump into relationships easily. They take time to make themselves important parts of their partner's life. Instead of revealing all in a romantic scene, they tend to be self-restrained and very selective. They can be very critical at times, but you can take comfort in the fact that this most discriminating sign has chosen you for a reason. They don't like people who have habits they dislike, and they appreciate someone who is punctual.

Since Virgo Venus attends to all the practical details of a relationship, you may not know what to do for them. They may have a simple answer for you, but you may still not be clear. Most of these day to day details are not exciting or dramatic. They don't attract a lot of attention, so you may not even notice some of them. Virgo Venus isn't very romantic, and it doesn't take a lot to please them.

In friendship, Virgo Venus likes to be needed and useful. When taken advantage of, however, you may begin to feel unappreciated. They are quiet and analytical, and very choosy who they have for friends.

The Venus in Virgo person comes across as someone who has a lot of integrity. They don't play mind games and their loner personality is intriguing to some people. They have a bit of mystery about them, and they protect their privacy. They are very trustworthy, if a bit aloof.

If you want to win the affection of a Virgo Venus, pay attention to what they do for you and show your appreciation. Dress well and always behave with good manners.

Libra Venus

Venus Libra

Libra Venus wants to impress you. They will use all their wiles of kindness and fairness to make a relationship work. Their manners are polished, which can make some people think they are superficial. In fact, they are gentle people who are easily offended. Bad manners and abrasive personalities can be threatening to them. A Venus in Libra person tries to treat people fairly and they often choose a middle ground to try and keep everything peaceful. It is not unusual for this sign to make concessions and changes in their own lives to accommodate others.

Libra Venus tends to be idealistic, and can make a relationship into something larger than life. If they feel taken advantage of, instead of confronting the person they have the issue with, they will quietly seethe in the corner, becoming more resentful as time goes on. They are easy targets for bullies.

A Venus in Libra person loves to share, but if someone is being tactless or rude, it really turns them off. When a relationship is unbalanced, they will become unhappy. They will try to bring it back into balance without you noticing. If you try to do your part to keep things on an even keel, Libra Venus will do their part and always consider how you feel about everything and treat you the way they want to be treated.

A true romantic, those born with a Venus in Libra are most happy when partnered with someone. They are sensitive to those around them, and may be accused of changing who they are to become what someone else wants them to be. It is easy for them to lose their identity if they aren't careful because they tend to see things from their partner's point of view. They may be clingy or tend to keep score of every little thing that happens. While charming and companionable, they may compromise a bit too much.

Libra Venus is sociable, friendly, polite and attractive to the opposite sex, no matter how they look. They like to be stimulated intellectually, and will always seek companionship and status in their lives. They want their surroundings to be beautiful and comfortable.

The Venus in Libra person can be superficial and lack clear personal values. Frequent disagreements can make them physically ill or nervous. They fall in love easily, and they may not wait for the right person. Their efforts at pleasing others can wear them down eventually.

As a friend, Libra Venus is the social butterfly. They give good advice. They may tend to choose friends who make them look good. They have style and know how to make people feel at ease.

Libra Venus may be good at writing, acting, making speeches, sales or business. Their social acumen comes in handy no matter what they choose to do.

If you are attracted to Libra Venus, be well-mannered, well-spoken and well dressed. Be fair to all you come across, and champion the cause of justice. Don't be snobby or arrogant. Do your part to keep the relationship in balance and always treat them well.

Scorpio Venus

Venus Scorpio

Scorpio Venus is intense and deep. They have a strong willingness to commit to a relationship, and they will only accept all or nothing. They are totally dedicated and focused on you, and they come across as being fearless. They crave intimacy, and are capable of loving someone very deeply. Scorpio Venus possesses their partner, and makes the partner want to be possessed.

They have the ability to give their partner their complete attention. This can be flattering to some people, while totally unnerving to others. While they probably won't admit it, a Venus in Scorpio person has a need to control their partner and the relationship. Their obsession may take all the fun out of the relationship. They take everything to the extreme, which can be attractive, but it can be overwhelming. While a person with a Venus in Scorpio will want to know every detail about you, they won't be so forthcoming with information about themselves.

If Scorpio Venus is upset, watch out. They can either explode with anger, or make you wish you were dead by the look they give you. They will probably become jealous of anyone else you spend time with, no matter what the reason, though they won't admit it. They are not afraid to manipulate a situation, and they are talented at seeing through any cover to what is at the heart. They may tend to be bored in a regular day-to-day relationship, though they thrive on crisis.

They appreciate someone who is loyal and committed to them. Let them have some control in the relationship if they are deserving of it. Some can take advantage of their partners on a very deep and subtle level, though not all of them will. They like to maintain their own secrets. Their feelings may prevent them from seeing the point of view of others. Suspicion is a natural feeling for them when they are unsure.

Scorpio Venus is a colorful person because of their intensity. They are often attracted to the mysteries of the occult, and they are good at playing detective or doing research. They can successfully use their sex appeal to get what they want. It is not uncommon for a person with a Venus in Scorpio to be cautious when meeting new people. They may take the opportunity to observe someone they are interested in several times before meeting them.

As a friend, they are insightful and able to understand their friends as plain as day. They may appear to be off in their own little world, but with a single comment, they can let you know that they notice every detail and they most certainly can keep your secrets.

Scorpio Venus likes someone who isn't afraid of commitment, emotions or intensity. They like a bit of surrender in the relationship. Don't play games with them, because they find it difficult to forgive. As wonderful as the Venus in Scorpio person can be when they love you, they can be equally bad when they have been hurt by you. Scorpio Venus likes change...even more; they thrive on the transformation that takes place during and after change. Whatever they put their passion into; it will mean everything to them.

Sagittarius Venus

Venus Sagittarius

Sagittarius Venus likes to learn new things all the time, and when they are in a relationship, they want someone that will help them grow and expand their range of experience. Idealistic, they want a partner who appreciates all the things they do...their beliefs, their goals, their visions. Both light-hearted and serious, a person with a Venus in Sagittarius can be a bit confusing at times. They don't commit as easily as some others, since they like to roam.

Sagittarius Venus is always having a good time. They are friendly and flirtatious, and they are great at entertaining others. While they take pride in their open-mindedness, they can also be rather judgmental. They don't like dull routine, inhibitions or overly emotional scenes. They are restless, and won't last long with someone who insists on dwelling on the same thing. When life gets rough in a relationship, they have a strong instinct to pack up and run. While this may mean they just need a break before coming back, it can also be forever. They are attracted to those who live life to the fullest...they don't care if that person is graceful, well-mannered or polished.

A person with Venus in Sagittarius needs space and freedom to be happy. Laugh with them, but if they are upset, take them seriously. Debate with them happily, but don't criticize what they believe in. When they want to roam, go with them. In most circumstances, they are easygoing and prefer things to go their way.

Variety is the spice of Sagittarius Venus' life. They may tend towards exaggeration just because they see life as the grand adventure. They love spontaneity...planning is not for them. They may let others down sometimes, but it isn't on purpose. They just dream too big, and they aren't big on follow-through. New interests can easily eclipse the old. They love philosophy, religion and art...they find these topics stimulating intellectually. Others find a person with Venus in Sagittarius easy to be around. They are social, fun and free-spirited. They like travel and excitement. They collect friends and lovers.

In friendship, Sagittarius Venus is the person who knows everyone. They are honest to the point of being blunt. They make friends everywhere they go, and they are likely to have a worldwide network of people they know. They don't need a lot of emotional attachment to their friends and other relationships.

Sagittarius Venus is happy entertaining...telling stories, performing in theatre, music or comedy...you name it, they're good at it. They make great teachers that students love because of their talents combining the intellectual with humor.

Sagittarius Venus wants someone that helps them get new experiences; someone who loves to travel, be adventurous and doesn't require a lot of commitment. They are attracted to people from other cultures because the differences are exciting. Getting them to commit is a long term project that requires a lot of patience and good timing. They don't like feeling trapped, and will go to great lengths to avoid it. They tend to put their partners on a pedestal, and when they fall, as they invariably will, it can be devastating to Sagittarius Venus.

Capricorn Venus

Venus Capricorn

Capricorn Venus is responsible and in control. They impress people by their wit, their focus on their goals, and their smarts. They like a certain amount of predictability in their relationships to fit their cautious personality.

They like to be alone, which is part of their charm. This loner behavior attracts many of the opposite sex as they seek to be a part of the "coolness" that is Capricorn Venus. They aren't very expressive or demonstrative about love, and their partners may wish they weren't quite so practical. The person with Venus in Capricorn isn't known for their warmth or spontaneity. In actuality, they can be very romantic and wish for someone to share their lives with. How they appear to others is very important to them.

Capricorn Venus is attracted to people who are serious and goal-oriented. They are willing to commit, and are rather conservative. They may be a bit shy, but they don't want anyone to know. They plan everything, and they are perfect for those who want to know where their relationship is going and want security. Capricorn Venus is respectful and tries very hard to not hurt their partner. It is difficult for them to let down their defenses, but when it happens, they are warm and tender.

Capricorn Venus shows their emotions and affection through their actions rather than their words. Passionate people can attract them, yet intimidate them at the same time. They have a lot to offer for those who are up to the challenge of getting to know them.

A Venus in Capricorn person needs material wealth and status to feel safe and secure. They may choose to marry someone who is from a higher station in life. They are reserved in public, but can be quite affectionate in private. They are loyal to those they love, and live up to their responsibilities. They are likely to seek out someone who has the same level of ambition they have with which to build their own personal empire. They are a little old-fashioned, and they would like nothing better than to settle down and have a family to grow old with.

In friendship, Capricorn Venus wants to help their friends be successful in the world. They are dependable and expect their friends to be as responsible as they are. They may suffer bouts of melancholy, so it is important that they have friends willing to extend a hand when this happens.

Capricorn Venus has a talent for finding good partnerships. They build with a sense of tradition, and they would like to leave a legacy in whatever they choose to be involved in.

People are attracted to Venus in Capricorn people because there is something soulful about them. This is made even more attractive because of the mystery created by their close guarding of their privacy. They don't just sit back and watch, they get up and do. They garner respect and exude dignity. They are loyal and unwavering.

For those attracted to a person with Venus in Capricorn, they want someone they can count on no matter what. They want someone who is accomplished in some fashion, and being prosperous doesn't hurt. They admire those

Aquarius Venus

Venus Aquarius

Aquarius Venus is open-minded and has an eye towards the future. They want to be seen as rebellious, unique and maybe a bit provocative. They don't follow the mainstream in love. They are attracted to unconventional relationships; the more unusual, the better. They don't want to follow the rules, but are not above making some of their own. They are friendly to everyone, but not everyone warrants personal attention from this Sign. They are generally popular and well-liked, and they often have a sparkling personality.

Aquarius Venus doesn't like restrictions, and can appear to be rather aloof. They can be a bit detached in a relationship. They want to be loved for their brains and their visions. They like partners who are also good friends, and they don't like to have any displays of emotions or anger in public. They will have a great time trying to shock you by their unusual habits or their progressive thinking. They often date many different types of people, regardless of social convention or peer pressure.

They want others to let them know how interesting they are. While they get crushed easily, true love can be a bit more challenging. Once they commit, they stick to it. They may feel a bit claustrophobic with a partner who is clingy or high maintenance. They do best when they get a little space once in awhile. They do best with someone who won't judge their outlandish ideas and who may be as unusual as they are.

As a friend, they may be a member of many groups or clubs. Their activism is a place where they may meet many people they like, but emotionally they are a bit of a loner, so Aquarius Venus may compromise and be alone in a busy location. They can be a soothing influence on someone who needs balance and may attract eccentrics or outcasts. The Venus in Aquarius person treats them all with the same amount of respect.

Creatively, Aquarius Venus is a few steps ahead of the crowd. Their inspiration won't be understood yet, but by the time it is, they'll have moved on to something new.

People, who are born with Venus in Aquarius, get noticed because they are offbeat. They stand up for the underdog, and people respect them for this, especially since they don't care how it reflects on them. Aquarius Venus is not critical and they don't dredge up old hurts. They are never boring to be around due to their spontaneous nature.

Those who are attracted to Aquarius Venus should be able to match them intellectually. You should allow them enough freedom to have nights out with their friends, yet can still be their very best friend. Marriage may not be their cup of tea until they have had time to explore.

Aquarius Venus is curious and they enjoy some intellectual stimulation from their partner. They don't like to stagnate, and they have a unique ability to be able to step back and get a new perspective on their situation. While others see them as calming influences, they are not above stirring up a little controversy to make things interesting.

Pisces Venus

Venus Pisces

Pisces Venus is a dreamy, soft-hearted charmer. They flirt attractively... they are playful with a slight moodiness, and may be a bit unusual. They are romantic, and prefer to play it by ear as they feel out the relationship. They can be very sensitive, but this can be a bit frustrating since they are not only sensitive to their partner, but towards everyone.

Pisces Venus wants their partner to know that they love unconditionally. They don't care about status; they just care about what is inside. They are attracted to those who need help, to the point they may be attracted more to a person's suffering or situations requiring a bit of martyrdom. They like to save people, and they like to be the one being saved. They find it hard to commit, even when they want to.

The person with Venus in Pisces likes romance and tenderness. They are not the most reliable, but remember that if they stretch the truth a bit, it is usually because they are afraid to cause you hurt. Try to be understanding, though this can be difficult sometimes since they don't always understand themselves. Sometimes they actually like the idea of being misunderstood.

Pisces Venus is compassionate and sensitive. They have a sense of humor in love, but often suffer ups and down in their mood. They are bothered by harshness or abrasive personalities. If you look in the dictionary under "wistful," there will be a photo of Pisces Venus as the definition. They desperately want to connect with a partner, but it is hard for them to settle down. They like some freedom...they don't like to be tied to schedules and duties. They may have a difficult time saying no to people.

The person with Venus in Pisces is changeable, and can appear completely different to different people. They have the knack of picking up on the emotions of others, and they can adapt to fit the needs of those around them.

Pisces Venus has the ability to understand people and to forgive them, no matter what. It is hard for them to define boundaries around themselves. They tend to be taken advantage of because of their sense of hospitality and empathy. They often feel alone or disappointed unless they get a very clear, definitive demonstration of love and affection. They are afraid of getting hurt, and may hesitate to express their own feelings. It is important for Pisces Venus to learn to protect themselves.

In friendship, they will go out of their way for a friend or anyone in need. They are thoughtful listeners who can empathize with any situation. They may get over-involved with others' emotions. It is important for them to steer clear of those that drain them emotionally.

A person with Venus in Pisces is very successful in work with paranormal themes, like past lives, dreams or the occult. They are natural actors because they can tap into the emotions of others easily.

Venus in Pisces has a mystical quality that is attractive. For those who want to win a Pisces Venus for their mate, you'll need to make the first move. Be affectionate and demonstrative in love, and always be sensitive and gentle.