

12 Zodiac Signs

Tuesday, August 29, 2017 10:10 PM

It seems to be that astrology comes from a human need. Primitives used to live and observe everything around their environment and that was one of the possible causes for the existence of astrology. Primitives were amazed and curious about day and night and they realized there was a cycle between the time it turned light and turned dark. It is then that the sun and the moon attracted their attention as one would appear when another would disappear in the sky.

They figured that after every 29 days the moon and the sun joined the sky and this was called the “new moon”. It was called this because it was when a new cycle would begin. However the sun used to take longer to repeat its annual cycle and that’s the reason for the existence of the seasons. However, when the sun finished its cycle there were 12 new moons during the year and that is where the 12 zodiac signs came from.

On the surface they may appear cold emotionally, but this is usually from their habit of suppressing their natural feelings in the name of control. They are charming and dignified. Intellectually they are inquisitive, logical and methodical. They are excellent at analyzing a problem, no matter how complicated it may be. They are usually modest and self-restrained and more than willing to serve. They have a gift for creating order out of chaos and give of themselves selflessly when others are in need.

Virgo Sun Signs are selective when choosing friends and partners. Because of this, they may be perceived as distant or aloof. An intellectual at heart, it may seem that they aren't connecting with their feelings; however, they do figure out their feelings by using their heads. People born under this Sign tend to put their relationships in concentric circles, with their intimate and family relationships on the innermost circle, and then close friends, then acquaintances. Those in the outer circles are not subjected to the criticisms that the inner circle are. If you are involved with a Virgo, be prepared for your faults to be brought up eventually. While they may be critical of you, they are even more critical of themselves. They may have difficulty trusting others and may lack confidence in themselves.

Virgo Woman

Virgo Sun Sign's creativity tends toward the intellectual or finely detailed. They make excellent architects, engineers, writers, designers or other craftsmen. It can be difficult for a Virgo Sun Sign to delegate, though they are excellent in business in other respects. In fact, they can tackle jobs that overwhelm others and be successful.

They are productive and prefer to stay busy. Their problem solving abilities are amazing, and indeed, this stimulates their intellectual needs.

Virgo Sun Sign can be overly health conscious. Many will choose a career in medicine or health fields to stay abreast of the latest information. They like to compartmentalize everything in their life, so balancing the mind and body is an important part of their life's journey. As students, for example, they will often concentrate so much on their studies that they neglect to eat. They can also be a bit of a hypochondriac if they focus too much on themselves. They tend to be nervous and worry a lot and may be seen as compulsive. They need to take time to relax and let go.

This Sign is driven by the energy of Venus which shows us, through our freedom of choice and responsibility, how to interact intimately with others, as well as, our ability to love and commit.

As the natural ruler of the "House of Partnerships", it governs marriage, business partners, contracts, known adversaries and law courts.

In relationships Librans are romantic, charming, easygoing and sociable. They typically exhibit a high level of sensitivity; having an innate understanding of the needs and feelings of others.

Every Sign has positive and negative energies. The following words describe the darker side of this Zodiac Sign: lazy, resentful, indecisive, self indulgent, flirtatious and easily influenced.

Libra

Diplomatic and urbane, romantic and charming, easygoing and sociable, idealistic and peace loving – these are some of the traditional personality traits associated with Libra. This is the birth sign of those born from September 23 to October 23 under the constellation of the Scales. The ruling planet is Venus and the element associated with this sign is air. On the other hand, those under the sign of Libra can be indecisive and apt to change their minds easily. They are also gullible and influence easily by others, often leading them into danger or unfavorable circumstances.

Libra is the only sign of the Zodiac represented by an inanimate object and many astrologers see it as the most desirable of all the signs. This is because it occurs at the high point of the year when humans are enjoying the benefit of a bountiful harvest. Those born under this sign tend to be good looking and have a sense of charm and good taste. They love the pleasures associated with beauty, harmony, music and socializing.

More about Libra...

Librans have a great ability to be able to detach themselves from a situation and look at it from various perspectives and so make great judges capable of rendering an impartial decision. They are, though, intolerant of anyone who challenges their decisions, but generally they are even-tempered people. They are very kind and detest cruelty in any form. In times of conflict they go out of their way to reach a compromise that will bring peace to a situation. They usually enjoy successful marriages because of their ability to understand the other person's point of view and will often do without themselves to help their partner.

The negative side of a Libra includes flirtatiousness and a shallow quality. They can be changeable and can display outbursts of temper. Women under this sign tend to be extravagant and spend a lot of money on frivolous items. They are also very inquisitive when it comes to gossip, especially regarding scandals in their social circles. Although most Librans are energetic, they have been given the description of being lazy. They do not like to get their hands dirty, which has led many people into careers where they do not have to do any manual labor.

They need to take care of their lower back and kidneys because they tend to be susceptible to illnesses of these areas of the body.

Libra Sun Sign Personality

Libra Sun Sign Symbol

The Libra Sun Sign personality is always performing a balancing act. They want to keep all aspects of their life in harmony. This can be a very difficult thing to accomplish. They can actually compromise their personality by striving too hard to keep the peace.

The Libra Sun Sign is sensitive to others' needs, especially with their partners, with whom they may share an almost psychic bond. They are happiest as part of a couple. They abhor violence, cruelty and crudeness. Conflict drives them crazy. They will bend over backwards to make peace until they can't handle it any longer and blow their top. One of their problems is they may get that lid put back on before they've released all their anger and tension, so they are destined to explode again at a later date. They may swing back and forth between rudeness and gentleness because of this aspect.

Libra Sun Sign tries to understand the other person's point of view, often compromising, at their cost, to keep a relationship happy. This happens in love, friendships and work relationships. They really like the opposite sex and are so romantic they often come off as sentimental. They make great marriage partners because they really bond with their spouse and try their best to be empathic to their needs. They are also tolerant of their partner's failings or weaknesses. They want reality to match their fantasy of what love should be. Some Libras have the perfect partner built up so much in their head that they find it next to impossible to find someone that fits.

It can be frustrating when they don't show any anger or annoyance in circumstances that warrant it, yet in others they fly into a huge storm of rage. They may need to work on self-worth, as they often have low self-esteem because they put so much focus on others. On the positive side, their indecision isn't because they are wishy-washy...it is because they spend too much time weighing their options.

Once their mind is made up, they can be very single-minded. Libra Sun Signs can be some of the most civilized people you will meet. They exude charm and elegance.

Libra Sun Signs make excellent diplomats, judges, counsellors and advisors. They may excel in the arts more so than in intellectual pursuits, but even in the arts they are not the type to be avant-garde. They make good critics because they are good at observation and perception. They are good designers, sculptors, artists and actors. Owning an art gallery or antique shop would also fall into their talents. They are good net-workers and are talented at bringing people together. They work hard, but dislike dirty work.

The best marriage partner is a friend first, so if you fall for an Aquarius Sun Sign, give them plenty of time. They don't like to be smothered, they need their space. While they are physically in the moment, their brain may be elsewhere, maybe contemplating what everything means that is happening, rather than enjoying the emotions of the moment. Because of this, they may come across as impersonal or detached.

They keep to themselves and don't speak about their problems very easily. Once someone is let into the inner circle, however, they will do anything for them. They may even end up being disappointed emotionally because they tend to expect more out of others than may be reasonable.

Aquarius Sun Sign people are social, charming and friendly. Their outgoing personality makes them popular. They want to solve the problems of the world or make life better for mankind.
