

Moon Compatibility

Thursday, August 31, 2017 1:39 PM

Aries Moon compatibility with Aries Moon

Aries Moon with Aries Moon

Aries Moon paired with Aries Moon may get along fantastically...as long as they are in agreement. If they have opposite opinions, both sides will dig in their heels and fight to the end to get the other to compromise, which the other never will. While they have an amazing understanding of each other, they also both have the desire to be the leader. This may cause friction in the end. If both partners have negative reactions to something, stand back! These negative feelings will be twice as strong!

They will both be ambitious and outgoing. Assertiveness and a natural competitive nature will keep them both active. They both love adventures, so this may be enough to keep them together. Neither one likes to show any signs of emotional weakness, which may cause hurt feelings in the long run when the other doesn't realize how the first one feels. Anger can be a problem that will need to be worked out if the relationship is to continue in a healthy manner.

This combination can be very exciting and dynamic. Unless both partners take the time to communicate fully and work on their relationship, however, it can burn out quickly.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Aries Moon compatibility with Taurus Moon

Aries Moon with Taurus Moon

This pairing may get along with work from both partners. Aries Moon wants to get out and do things, while Taurus Moon prefers to be comfortable in their routines. If this relationship is to work out, one partner must become tolerant of the other's desires. This usually falls on Taurus Moon to tolerate Aries Moon's ambitious spirit.

Both Aries Moon and Taurus Moon are very creative, and they may find solid common ground here. If they used this as the basis of a business or something, Aries' leadership may help Taurus' reliability into a thriving atmosphere. Aries is great at starting projects, and Taurus can finish them up.

On the other hand, there is much for Aries Moon and Taurus Moon to overcome. Aries wants to mix things up, Taurus wants to sit back and enjoy. Aries wants action, Taurus wants tranquility. During arguments, Aries Moon will hit with direct emotional outbursts, while Taurus will slowly let the anger build and will be equally slow to let it go. Taurus can also temper Aries Moon's outbursts and have a soothing effect on them. If they are both determined to make a go of this relationship, Aries Moon and Taurus Moon can learn to accept each other for what they are.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Aries Moon compatibility with Gemini Moon

Aries Moon with Gemini Moon

Aries Moon and Gemini Moon make terrific companions. They have a relationship based on loyalty and friendship. They are very compatible in many ways. They both love a good adventure, and change is met enthusiastically by both partners.

When things need to get finished, or when life becomes routine is when this pairing has problems. They both desire excitement, and when it is not forthcoming, they can start getting in each other's way. Neither Aries nor Gemini likes emotional dependency and neediness. If one partner becomes clingy, the other may feel stifled. Aries Moon prefers direct communication and doesn't like to play games while Gemini Moon loves word games and is often not serious when they discuss feelings and other emotional issues. In this sense they can drive each other crazy.

Aries Moon and Gemini Moon will need to work to come to an understanding they can both live with during trying times in their relationship. They may find it worthwhile since they can easily be the best of pals the rest of the time they are together.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Aries Moon compatibility with Cancer Moon

Aries Moon with Cancer Moon

Aries Moon and Cancer Moon must work diligently to make a relationship work between them. They have very little in common to work with. It is easy for Aries to run over Cancer's sensitive feelings without even realizing it. Everything Cancer Moon wants, Aries Moon doesn't. While they may be strongly attracted to each other physically, it usually doesn't take long for this pairing to figure out that they see the world in two very different ways.

Aries Moon tends to be more aggressive than Cancer can handle, though Cancer may learn to reflect those assertive energies back. Cancer Moon drives Aries crazy with their mood swings and emotional dependency. Cancer Moon needs to feel that they are needed, while Aries Moon is extremely independent. Cancer may end up feeling that Aries is selfish or uncaring, while Aries may feel that Cancer is too dependent and manipulative. Cancer is often indirect, hoping that Aries will be able to figure out what they mean, while the directness of Aries often wounds Cancer's sensitive soul.

The only way they can get along is they both need to learn to compromise greatly to keep their relationship going. The sensitivities of Cancer Moon and the directness of Aries Moon are so opposite that they hurt each other more often than not. They both just want completely different things out of life.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Aries Moon compatibility with Leo Moon

Aries Moon with Leo Moon

Aries Moon and Leo Moon are very compatible. They have a great deal of respect for each other, as they have a lot in common. Both of them are independent and believe in strength. They both want to be loved.

While Aries Moon wants things now, Leo Moon wants things to last forever. Aries is happy being noticed, while Leo is happiest when they are the center of attention. They may keep these desires secret, and harbor ill will towards the partner that gets more attention than they do. These issues can cause some disagreement or competition, but if both partners are willing to work it out, they can be overcome without too much difficulty.

Both Aries Moon and Leo Moon will hide behind their own individual strength, wanting to repress any feelings of neediness, weakness or inadequacy. They are too proud to admit they may need help. Overall, these two signs can have a long and happy future together as long as they work out the little jealousy issues that may crop up from time to time. They are both very supportive of each other and can help each grow in the direction they wish for.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Aries Moon compatibility with Virgo Moon

Aries Moon with Virgo Moon

Aries Moon and Virgo Moon can make a relationship work, but it may take some effort on the part of both people. They get along fairly well most of the time until circumstances cause them to react. This is what brings out their differences. Aries and Virgo both need to try to work in harmony.

Passionate Aries likes to jump right into things and take chances. They are enthusiastic and loud. Stable Virgo, on the other hand, prefers to analyze the situation first and draw up a plan. They are sensitive and tend to worry. While Aries is bossy, Virgo is critical. They may allow the tension to grow between them or grow impatient with each other. They both approach life's situations very differently. This may end up causing so much irritation the relationship is unsalvageable.

Aries Moon will tend to burst out with their anger, which in turn will make Virgo Moon nervous and sensitive. Virgo's perfectionist ways will bring criticism down on Aries, as they really don't care if they make mistakes along the way. These criticisms can prove to be very discouraging to Aries, who needs to feel loved and supported to maintain their enthusiasm.

If Aries Moon and Virgo Moon are to make a go of it, Aries needs to share their creative ideas and allow Virgo to help bring them to fruition.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Aries Moon compatibility with Libra Moon

Aries Moon with Libra Moon

Aries Moon and Libra Moon can be perfect together...or they can make the worst pairing ever.

While they can be compatible in some ways, in others they are the total opposites. The passion Aries has for everything is tempered by Libra's need to talk through everything.

Libra Moon thrives on relationships. They know how to share and blend their lives with another person. Aries Moon is more independent, which can leave Libra feeling abandoned at times. While they often make sparks romantically, there may be misunderstandings in what roles each wants the other to play. Aries Moon likes to be in charge and make all the decisions. This seems perfect for indecisive Libra Moon, but Libra may end up making all the compromises and may end up feeling taken advantage of. Libra doesn't like emotional outbursts, and Aries thrives on them. Libra would rather discuss their problems and work them out, while Aries would rather ignore it until it goes away.

While it is possible for them to make a compatible match, this relationship will take a lot of work. Since Libra likes everything in balance, they may end up just cutting their losses after awhile if it looks like that balance will never be attainable.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Aries Moon compatibility with Scorpio Moon

Aries Moon with Scorpio Moon

Aries Moon and Scorpio Moon may be compatible if both partners really work on pleasing each other. While passions run hot on both sides, this pairing often becomes a relationship where one partner is constantly making the effort to accommodate the other one.

Both Aries and Scorpio want to be in charge; Aries because they like to be the leader, and Scorpio because they like to control everything in their lives. Both partners are intense and powerful, though their individual differences are what can tear them apart. Aries prefers to surf along on the surface while Scorpio runs very deep. Aries likes to deal with issues with aggressive emotions while Scorpio will slink away silently, hiding their feelings and holding a grudge. This can be a very challenging pairing. While both are very emotional people, Aries lets their frustrations out and goes on. Scorpio, on the other hand, is complex, secretive and may become suspicious of everything their partner does.

Because of their passionate natures, Aries Moon and Scorpio Moon tend to be drawn to each other...but this is usually not a long lasting relationship due to the viciousness of their conflicts. If they can make it work, it will be a very passionate, emotional relationship.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Aries Moon compatibility with Sagittarius Moon

Aries Moon with Sagittarius Moon

Aries Moon and Sagittarius Moon get along perfectly well. They both like adventures and excitement. They are both full of enthusiasm and energy. Emotionally, these two are very compatible. Freedom is important to both of them. They will be a playful, stimulating pair.

Both Aries and Sagittarius are rather blunt. They make a pairing that is optimistic, courageous and invigorating. Neediness and dependency makes both of them very uncomfortable. They prefer to be spontaneous when they get emotional. Their differences will show in how they react to emotion. Sagittarius prefers to use their intellect to understand their feelings. They like to file things away in mental boxes as being either positive or negative. Aries, on the other hand, may get tired of being told how they should feel at any given time. Luckily, Sagittarius' sense of humor often rescues the situation.

On the good side, because of the high level of compatibility between Aries Moon and Sagittarius Moon, they respect each other and their needs. They are honest with each other and have no need to be manipulative. These two will be able to make a relationship work very well with little effort.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Aries Moon compatibility with Capricorn Moon

Aries Moon with Capricorn Moon

Aries Moon and Capricorn Moon will have a challenging time of it. If the relationship is to work, one will inevitably end up compromising at their own expense. They do stand a chance...this pairing is somewhat compatible. Both partners will do whatever they need to make it work.

They do have many differences to overcome, however. Aries Moon is enthusiastic, direct and spontaneous while Capricorn Moon is careful, controlled and reserved. They are both rather self-centered, which may add to their challenges. Aries wants everything at that moment while Capricorn is willing to wait and earn what they want slowly through organization and strategy. Capricorn also has a problem with self-confidence. This can upset Aries to no end.

On the good side, Capricorn helps Aries create distance from irritations. In turn, Aries can help Capricorn enjoy more spontaneity in their life. Both are able to be self-sufficient emotionally and enjoy time alone. When attraction appears in this pairing, it normally runs its course and life goes on. If this relationship is to truly work, both partners will need to cooperate and work with each other to develop a give and take. This will help this pairing survive.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Aries Moon compatibility with Aquarius Moon

Aries Moon with Aquarius Moon

Aries Moon and Aquarius Moon will have a relationship based on loyalty and friendship. They are compatible and often have a strong tie between them despite the challenges that arise. This is a marriage of logic and passion. Both partners love new experiences and opportunities. They both love their independence and they both tend to be restless. They do have a lot in common.

Aries and Aquarius also have a lot of differences. Aries Moon reacts to feelings, while Aquarius Moon reacts to logical argument. Neither one likes to compromise. When Aries gets upset or impatient, Aquarius can drive them crazy with their cool logic. Aries Moon can be somewhat dominating in the relationship, but Aquarius Moon will not accept this and will demand equality. If they can work together and pair up Aries' need for action with Aquarius' need for change, they can be very happy together. They have no problem letting go of the past, so it is possible for them to work past any disagreements and go on. If worse comes to worst, they can both easily make use of counseling to deal with their issues. They may have difficulty keeping secrets.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Aries Moon compatibility with Pisces Moon

Aries Moon with Pisces Moon

Aries Moon and Pisces Moon may get along or they may not. If they are to stand a chance, one will have to make concessions to the other on a regular basis. They may find themselves conflicted over what they each want out of life.

Aries Moon likes to take action and be in charge, while Pisces Moon is gentle and passive. They prefer to just see where the current takes them. Aries is direct, enthusiastic and ready to face challenges while Pisces is vague and prefers not to face conflict of any kind. Aries feels a hurt, expresses themselves and moves on, while Pisces is so sensitive it is hard for them to let go of any hurt, however slight. Pisces may be clingy and needy while Aries is self-reliant. While they both follow their instincts, they react so differently that they may then spend quite a while trying to figure out where the misunderstanding occurred. They don't mean to offend the other, but they frequently do. They can't help it. They each just see things in such different ways.

It can be very difficult for Aries Moon not to dominate Pisces Moon. Their passivity and unfocused sense of personal direction makes it so easy for Aries to just ride right over them. If they make this pairing work, it is usually Pisces who compromises and ends up feeling unloved and unsupported... two things they need desperately. This is a very difficult relationship to make last without irreparable damage.

Taurus Moon compatibility with Aries Moon

Taurus Moon with Aries Moon

This pairing may get along with work from both partners. Taurus Moon prefers to be comfortable in their routines, while Aries Moon wants to get out and do things. If this relationship is to work out, one partner must become tolerant of the other's desires. This usually falls on Taurus Moon to tolerate Aries Moon's ambitious spirit.

Both Taurus Moon and Aries Moon are very creative, and they may find solid common ground here. If they used this as the basis of a business or something, Aries' leadership may help Taurus' reliability into a thriving atmosphere. Aries is great at starting projects, and Taurus can finish them up.

On the other hand, there is much for Taurus Moon and Aries Moon to overcome. Aries wants to mix things up, Taurus wants to sit back and enjoy. Aries wants action, Taurus wants tranquility. During arguments, Aries Moon will hit with direct emotional outbursts, while Taurus will slowly let the anger build and will be equally slow to let it go. Taurus can also temper Aries Moon's outbursts and have a soothing effect on them. If they are both determined to make a go of this relationship, Aries Moon and Taurus Moon can learn to accept each other for what they are.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Taurus Moon Compatibility with Taurus Moon

Taurus Moon with Taurus Moon

Taurus Moon and Taurus Moon seem to get along great on the surface. They have the same likes and dislikes. They both enjoy fine dining and fine living. However, they must remember that they also share the same faults. While they both love material comfort and security, when they disagree, neither one will want to concede an inch.

Neither partner will want to embrace change, no matter how much it may be needed. When their routines are altered, they will want to dig in their heels and resist. Their own stubbornness may ruin all the good that they share.

If they can overcome this obstacle, Taurus Moon and Taurus Moon can be very happy together. They will be able to build a nice cozy little nest and enjoy each other's company. They will use their creativity to plan and slowly bring their dreams to fruition. They will probably have the prettiest garden on the block. They both need much physical affection. As long as each is willing to give as good as they get they should be happy. If they take the time to identify the areas where they are lacking and work on it, this pairing can be very happy together.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Taurus Moon Compatibility with Gemini Moon

Taurus Moon with Gemini Moon

Taurus Moon and Gemini Moon may get along fine if one is willing to make concessions for the others' desires. This role is usually filled by easy-going Taurus. This could cause possible problems later on in the relationship as Taurus tires of this role.

Gemini may find Taurus' nurturing personality alluring, but over time they may consider Taurus to be dull. They get restless very easily and want excitement in their lives. Taurus, on the other hand, doesn't like change. They prefer comfortable routines to Gemini's flightiness. Gemini's need for activity and mental stimulation can really upset Taurus' deliberate, sensual lifestyle. Gemini Moon is more emotional, Taurus Moon is more physical. The stubbornness native to Taurus Moon is very frustrating to Gemini Moon.

Taurus may feel that Gemini prefers to create their own fantasy world, while Gemini may consider Taurus a stick-in-the-mud. Physically, Taurus Moon may need more closeness than Gemini Moon does. They are both very creative, and may find a common place to meet in this attribute. Both sides will have to make an extra effort to make this pairing work well. Most couples with this pairing may stay together briefly before going their separate ways, richer for the experience, but relieved that it is over.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Taurus Moon Compatibility with Cancer Moon

Taurus Moon with Cancer Moon

Taurus Moon and Cancer Moon make a loyal couple. They are friends first, and share an abiding love of family and security. In fact, these two share a lot in common. They both love a comfortable home, familiar surroundings, good food and nurturing natures. They are both cautious about making changes to their plans and lives. Taurus Moon meets many of Cancer Moon's needs for emotional security and harmony. Cancer Moon meets many of Taurus Moon's needs for both stability and comfort.

Cancer Moon does tend to be a bit moody, which placid Taurus Moon may not ever understand. Taurus' steadiness, however, may make up for the fact that they just don't get it. Their impassiveness can irritate Cancer at times. Their commonalities make up for this, however. They both enjoy being domestic. They care for each other and their family in a very nurturing way. They are both dependable and would rather stay home than go off seeking excitement. All in all, this pairing should be highly successful and long lasting. They will build a beautiful home together and spend every moment possible together as a family. This could easily be the happy family everyone dreams about having someday.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Taurus Moon Compatibility with Leo Moon

Taurus Moon with Leo Moon

Taurus Moon and Leo Moon may get along with some compromising along the way. This is usually done by one partner rather than equally. They may share a common bond that keeps them together despite the challenges. Both partners are loyal, protective and enjoy comfort. They each want someone who is steadfast, warm and committed to the relationship. Both are generous to a fault, yet inflexible about their individual opinions.

Taurus Moon may find Leo Moon's need to be the center of attention and playfulness distracting or challenging at times. Leo Moon may think that Taurus Moon doesn't pay them enough attention or they may think Taurus lacks a sense of humor. Both have a solid stubborn streak that may make compromising difficult. They use their resources very differently. Leo's loud melodramatics may disrupt Taurus' serenity at times.

This combination can be very tricky since there are so many similarities, yet those differences really create issues. With a lot of work between these two, this pairing could work. Unless both partners are truly committed to making it work, however, it will be a hard road to follow despite their similarities. Each partner has the impulse to drop the relationship and move on, yet they both understand the potential underneath for an amazing, productive relationship.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Taurus Moon Compatibility with Virgo Moon

Taurus Moon with Virgo Moon

Taurus Moon and Virgo Moon are extremely compatible. They have a great deal of respect and understanding for each other. Taurus is stable and pragmatic; Virgo is practical and attends to detail. They are made for each other. Both partners are cautious and approach new things slowly. They both enjoy working with nature and natural materials. Both are concerned about how change will affect them.

Their differences lie in how they react. While Taurus Moon will forge ahead once they commit to an idea, Virgo Moon will constantly second guess and criticize their choice. The worrying done by Virgo will be comforted by Taurus' steadiness and emotional stability. Taurus, in turn, helps Virgo to relax and become more instinctual. Virgo Moon may become annoyed with the lackadaisical way that Taurus Moon leaves things all over the house.

Overall, however, this is a happy and content pairing. They meet each others' needs for intimacy and pleasant company. They will be most content in the country or if they are able to grow a garden or at least go camping frequently. They have a need to interact with nature in some way. This pairing should do very well with minimal effort.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Taurus Moon Compatibility with Libra Moon

Taurus Moon with Libra Moon

Taurus Moon and Libra Moon can have a wonderfully fulfilling relationship. They share a love for the sensual and the artistic things in life. They also have enough differences to keep the interest going. This pairing can easily get out of balance, however. One partner may end up feeling they are always trying to please the other.

Both Taurus Moon and Libra Moon prefer harmony at home. They would rather avoid any unpleasantness or discord. Libra is attracted to Taurus' magnetic personality, but Taurus may fall into predictable routines, which don't feed Libra's need for romance. Both partners love the same things, but they want to experience them through different senses. Taurus prefers to experience through the senses, while Libra prefers to experience things through their intellect. They may end up projecting their own imperfections on the other and creating a constant current of dissatisfaction. They need to work on this if they want harmony in their relationship.

Both partners need to learn to take the initiative and face any problems head on instead of letting them slide until they grow too large to overcome. By acknowledging these issues when they begin, this pairing is setting themselves up to succeed.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Taurus Moon Compatibility with Scorpio Moon

Taurus Moon with Scorpio Moon

Taurus Moon and Scorpio Moon can be deliriously happy with each other; or they can absolutely detest each other. Unfortunately, one pair can experience both extremes. When things are going good, they are on top of the world. When they have problems, they feel no one else is experiencing anything worse.

Both partners in this relationship can be stubborn and inflexible. They both rely on their instincts. They are both deeply attracted to each other. Taurus Moon, however, will drive Scorpio Moon mad with their need for affection, desire for physical comforts and practicality. Scorpio Moon will drive Taurus Moon mad with their strong desire for sexual intensity, secrets and need for control through manipulation. They may find themselves in a pattern of separation and reconciliation over and over again. This can end up being a hurtful situation for both partners.

Taurus Moon will be much easier to please in this pairing. Scorpio Moon has deep feelings, and when hurt can be tremendously hostile. Scorpio is prone to feeling jealous, angry and guilty. Taurus understands none of this, even though they may be a bit possessive. Once they learn to deal with each other, however, the strong attraction that brought them close in the first place can create a very special bond.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Taurus Moon Compatibility with Sagittarius Moon

Taurus Moon with Sagittarius Moon

Taurus Moon and Sagittarius Moon are an unlikely pairing. One partner may feel a deep need to accommodate the other for some reason they may not fully understand. This can make for an imbalanced relationship. They are complete opposites. They are in conflict more often than not.

Taurus Moon wants stability and familiarity. Sagittarius Moon wants to be involved with change, and prefers to stay in the middle of the action. Taurus wants harmony and comfort, while Sagittarius wants adventure and new experiences. While they can both be very generous to the other, this is often not enough to create a good relationship. Finances may create more challenges for this pair as Sagittarius sees spending as a way to enjoy themselves while Taurus sees it as excessive and risky.

Sagittarius' idealism for the future is often at odds with Taurus' concern for the immediate present. Sagittarius will feel misunderstood, while Taurus feels Sagittarius is impractical and lives in a fantasy world of their own creation.

If they can make the giant leap and overcome their differences, Taurus Moon and Sagittarius Moon may make a go of it and have a great relationship based on freedom and generosity.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Taurus Moon with Capricorn Moon

Taurus Moon with Capricorn Moon

Taurus Moon and Capricorn Moon are a good match. They will have a tremendous respect and understanding for each other. They have a lot of things in common. Both Taurus and Capricorn need money and material possessions to make them feel secure and comfortable. They both like routine and order. Both partners will prove dependable and responsible.

They do have a few differences they may need to work through. Taurus Moon is very laid back and easy going. It takes some real motivation to get them moving. They also like to mosey along so they can enjoy the scenery. Capricorn Moon needs to be actively working to be happy. They want to get everything done yesterday, and they need to feel in control. While Taurus likes instant gratification, Capricorn is willing to wait for it, knowing how good it will be. Capricorn Moon may think Taurus will never grow up. Taurus Moon may think Capricorn is obsessed with proving their worth.

Taurus Moon does appreciate Capricorn's stability and steadiness. Capricorn Moon appreciates Taurus' creativity ending up in practical usage. Taurus Moon can help Capricorn learn to enjoy the fruits of their labor and to show affection. Capricorn Moon can help Taurus find motivation and ambition to bring their ideas to reality. Overall, they are a solid match that should do well together.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Taurus Moon with Aquarius Moon

Taurus Moon with Aquarius Moon

Taurus Moon and Aquarius Moon will have a hard road ahead of them. While they do have some compatibility, one will need to make compromises to overcome the irritation they feel with each other. It is a rare thing for this pairing to work.

Taurus Moon loves their security, material comforts, routines and tranquility. Aquarius Moon wants excitement, freedom, mental stimulation and social interaction. Taurus prefers to use time-honored methods that produce predictable results. Aquarius wants to try the latest gadgets, new ideas and innovate even better ways to do things. Taurus lives in the present while Aquarius lives for the future. This is a classic case of tradition versus change. Both partners are very opinionated, which is one of the few traits they share.

Taurus Moon and Aquarius Moon may have a very strong attraction to one another, but it may be more than they can both endure to make it last any longer than it has to. They may end up with an on again, off again relationship. If they can open up to each other and share, they may both learn a lot that will enrich each of their lives a great deal.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Taurus Moon with Pisces Moon

Taurus Moon with Pisces Moon

Taurus Moon and Pisces Moon can be very happy. They can develop a strong bond of friendship and loyalty that will see them through any rough times. Both partners are loving, sympathetic and generous. They like a tranquil home, love nature and music. Plants and animals are dear to both partners in this relationship.

Taurus Moon is well grounded and practical; Pisces Moon is anything but grounded and is often impractical. These two partners have the ability to harmonize and complement each other as long as Taurus is in charge of practical matters. Taurus proves to be a good support for Pisces, who gives Taurus a bit of fantasy in their life.

Taurus can nurture sensitive Pisces when needed. Pisces can be empathetic when Taurus needs it. They each bring some balance to the relationship. Together they can create a magical, peaceful home. Neither partner likes conflict, and both are rather passive unless aroused. This pairing can fare very well for the long term as long as Taurus Moon takes care of the practical aspects.

Gemini Moon compatibility with Aries Moon

Gemini Moon with Aries Moon

Gemini Moon and Aries Moon make terrific companions. They have a relationship based on loyalty and friendship. They are very compatible in many ways. They both love a good adventure, and change is met enthusiastically by both partners.

When things need to get finished, or when life becomes routine is when this pairing has problems. They both desire excitement, and when it is not forthcoming, they can start getting in each other's way. Neither Aries nor Gemini likes emotional dependency and neediness. If one partner becomes clingy, the other may feel stifled. Aries Moon prefers direct communication and doesn't like to play games while Gemini Moon loves word games and is often not serious when they discuss feelings and other emotional issues. In this sense they can drive each other crazy.

Aries Moon and Gemini Moon will need to work to come to an understanding they can both live with during trying times in their relationship. They may find it worthwhile since they can easily be the best of pals the rest of the time they are together.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Gemini Moon Compatibility with Taurus Moon

Gemini Moon with Taurus Moon

Taurus Moon and Gemini Moon may get along fine if one is willing to make concessions for the others' desires. This role is usually filled by easy-going Taurus. This could cause possible problems later on in the relationship as Taurus tires of this role.

Gemini may find Taurus' nurturing personality alluring, but over time they may consider Taurus to be dull. They get restless very easily and want excitement in their lives. Taurus, on the other hand, doesn't like change. They prefer comfortable routines to Gemini's flightiness. Gemini's need for activity and mental stimulation can really upset Taurus' deliberate, sensual lifestyle. Gemini Moon is more emotional, Taurus Moon is more physical. The stubbornness native to Taurus Moon is very frustrating to Gemini Moon.

Taurus may feel that Gemini prefers to create their own fantasy world, while Gemini may consider Taurus a stick-in-the-mud. Physically, Taurus Moon may need more closeness than Gemini Moon does. They are both very creative, and may find a common place to meet in this attribute. Both sides will have to make an extra effort to make this pairing work well. Most couples with this pairing may stay together briefly before going their separate ways, richer for the experience, but relieved that it is over.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Gemini Moon Compatibility with Gemini Moon

Gemini Moon with Gemini Moon

Gemini Moon and Gemini Moon will be able to understand each other perfectly. They will feel the same way about many things. Unfortunately, they will also dislike the same things. Their natural restlessness may ultimately tear them apart.

Gemini Moon loves to talk and be social with as many people as possible. This couple will have a busy social calendar, flitting from one engagement to the next. They are curious and need to be intellectually stimulated. They are witty and playful with a terrific sense of humor. They focus less on emotions than on thoughts. They are restless and get bored easily. They are great at multi-tasking. If they can share enough interests and keep things lively, they may have a very happy relationship.

They may be unaware of each others' feelings. Gemini Moon is not comfortable with large emotional displays. They tend to be a bit detached emotionally and may appear superficial. Since both partners are coming from the same place, however, this may not be much of a problem for them. They will easily understand where the other one is coming from and appreciate their sense of humor. While they may tend to treat serious subjects lightly, it doesn't seem to bother them at all.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Gemini Moon Compatibility with Cancer Moon

Gemini Moon with Cancer Moon

Gemini Moon and Cancer Moon might get along. One will end up being tolerant of the other's idiosyncrasies, and there may be some common threads upon which they base their relationship. There may be some karmic payback taking place.

This pairing creates misunderstandings. Gemini Moon wants to be intellectual and logical, solving problems with humor. Cancer Moon takes everything Gemini says personally. They are moody and sensitive and to thrive they need tender understanding and support. Gemini Moon wants to go out on the town and socialize; they crave mental stimulation. They get bored easily, and may get restless. They are not comfortable with displays of emotion. Cancer Moon wants to stay home in the cozy nest they have created. They love tradition and they really don't enjoy going out. They are sentimental and want to nurture. They may feel that Gemini doesn't care about them. These differences cause quite a bit of friction between the two.

With Gemini Moon's discomfort over Cancer's emotional state and Cancer Moon's hurt feelings over Gemini's glib attempt to make them feel better, things are never calm and peaceful with this couple. In order for there to be a successful relationship, Cancer needs to grow a thicker skin and Gemini needs to learn how to be a bit sentimental.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Gemini Moon Compatibility with Leo Moon

Gemini Moon with Leo Moon

Gemini Moon and Leo Moon are loyal friends to each other. They have enough in common that they should make a great couple. They both enjoy a good sense of humor; they both are witty and enjoy life. They are both fun-loving and have an optimistic outlook on life.

Gemini Moon likes to flit from one activity to the next, socializing as they go. Leo Moon takes things more seriously. They truly want to be appreciated. They are passionate and want a stable home life. Gemini doesn't take life seriously, and may end up hurting Leo's feelings at times. Leo has a very strong sense of pride that can easily be bruised.

On the good side, Gemini Moon's ease of networking with others can work in Leo's favor. They can make connections and find opportunities that will let Leo shine. Most of the time, this pairing will get along famously and complement each other well. As long as they can work through their minor differences, this could be a terrific relationship for both parties.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Gemini Moon Compatibility with Virgo Moon

Gemini Moon with Virgo Moon

Gemini Moon and Virgo Moon are not very well matched, though they can make it work if they are dedicated to the relationship. There will be challenges in this pairing. One of the pair must compromise to overcome the irritations created by these personalities.

Gemini Moon is restless and wants new challenges and ideas. They love to socialize and meet new people. Virgo Moon is a perfectionist who isn't afraid to work hard to get what they want. They are talented with details and organizing. Gemini Moon is superficial and optimistic; Virgo Moon is pessimistic and critical. They have a strong sense of responsibility and service to others. Gemini will take on more projects than they can handle easily and often leaves them unfinished. Virgo also takes on many projects, but they work on one at a time until they are finished down to every meticulous detail.

Both partners may find themselves stretched thin from overwork. Virgo Moon will take it upon themselves to bring nutritious foods and healthy habits into the relationship. They find it irritating when things are out of place. They are more disciplined than Gemini and they want to improve themselves. Gemini Moon finds it easier to relax and play than Virgo does. They do share a passion for word games and other knowledge challenges. It will take work, but they could make a lasting relationship out of this if they try.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Gemini Moon Compatibility with Libra Moon

Gemini Moon with Libra Moon

Gemini Moon and Libra Moon are a perfect couple. They share so many things...they understand each other, they have the same opinions and respect the other greatly. This is truly a charming couple. Both partners are rational and love to reason things out. They are a bit uncomfortable with open displays of emotion. They both love to socialize.

Gemini Moon tends to focus on ideas, while Libra Moon is centered on ideals of relationships. This works to make a nice balanced give and take in the relationship. They love to talk and make great companions for each other. They are a tender, affectionate couple that will create a peaceful home. Each inspires the other to more creativity and success.

Any problems that arise are dealt with logically so the outcome is fair to all. Both partners may overlook their own fears or issues. Libra will do this to keep everything happy and harmonious. Gemini will detach from the problem when it becomes emotional. Their conversations are always stimulating. Libra Moon will focus on people and situations while Gemini Moon will leap from idea to idea. They will make great friends as well as do well in a romantic relationship.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Gemini Moon Compatibility with Scorpio Moon

Gemini Moon with Scorpio Moon

Gemini Moon and Scorpio Moon may or may not work out. The relationship is bound to become out of balance unless both partners are constantly working to keep it going smoothly. These two are not well matched and may have a lot of challenges to conquer.

Gemini Moon and Scorpio Moon are very different, emotionally. They may have difficulty appreciating the other or understanding where the other is coming from. Gemini has a light, superficial approach to relationships that truly upsets Scorpio, who feels passionate and intense. Likewise, Scorpio's outbursts, jealousy and manipulation to gain control over Gemini's need for freedom, socialization and variety will cause Gemini to run far away. Scorpio gets frustrated by Gemini's rationality and need for new experiences. While Gemini is attracted to Scorpio, it is more to gain the experience than to create a lifelong relationship.

Can two signs be more different than Gemini and Scorpio? Gemini Moon will feel threatened or uncomfortable by the intensity and will try to deflect this through humor, reason and finally avoidance. Gemini's need for socializing, variety and mental stimulation is totally foreign to Scorpio. Scorpio Moon intensely loves or hates everything they come across. They cannot be reasonable, detached or rational when it comes to personal issues. They often feel that Gemini just doesn't care. Scorpio is very private and may be unsociable sometimes. They can also be very demanding, but it is due to their need and ability to share deeply and to relish the closeness and intimacy that they crave. Gemini may not be capable of achieving this level.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Gemini Moon Compatibility with Sagittarius Moon

Gemini Moon with Sagittarius Moon

Gemini Moon and Sagittarius Moon are opposites on the zodiac, and they can get along extremely well... or not, if times are bad. They can be the most impressive couple around when things are good. They can make things work out very well with a little bit of effort.

Both Sagittarius and Gemini love freedom and excitement. They share a playful manner and have a great sense of humor. They are both very curious and love to travel and learn new things. It would probably be easier to list what these two don't have in common! This pairing can result in a rousing success. Gemini helps fuel Sagittarius' passion, and Sagittarius keeps Gemini interested in romance. They are always off on some new adventure.

They have few differences. Sagittarius Moon may be more idealistic and philosophical than Gemini, but Gemini Moon has a knack for dark humor that Sagittarius just doesn't quite get. They make admirable companions, however, and even without the romance they would enjoy a long, fruitful friendship. With romance added, it just adds a new dimension to their relationship. When things are going badly, they can tend to grind on each other a bit, but with some effort, this can be overcome.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Gemini Moon Compatibility with Capricorn Moon

Gemini Moon with Capricorn Moon

Gemini Moon and Capricorn Moon will need to work to make this relationship successful. They may feel there is a karmic tie between them. This pairing can easily get unbalanced, so care must be taken that one person is not taken advantage of more often than the other. They do not have a whole lot in common when it comes to their approaches in life.

Gemini and Capricorn may have difficulty communicating with each other. This will lead to frustration and misunderstandings. Gemini Moon is restless, open minded, and hardly ever finishes what they begin. Capricorn Moon is serious, conscientious and disciplined. They need to set goals and achieve them. While each fills a need in the other, the communication problems may be too much for some to overcome.

On the good days, this pairing complements each other perfectly. Gemini can prevent Capricorn from overworking and teach them how to have fun. Capricorn may be able to teach Gemini some responsibility and discipline. Capricorn Moon always ends up being the adult, while Gemini Moon plays and has fun. This can become a bone for contention between them.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Gemini Moon Compatibility with Aquarius Moon

Gemini Moon with Aquarius Moon

Gemini Moon and Aquarius Moon get along famously. They have a great deal of understanding and respect for each other. They have similar motivations and desires, which makes this couple almost ideal. They can be the best of friends, share a light romance, or a wonderful domestic partnership.

Gemini Moon and Aquarius Moon both like change, lots of socializing and freedom. Gemini needs variety, and Aquarius is unpredictable and novel. They share a nice wit, a sense of humor, and they love to talk. They can share and grow ideas in a lively manner. The fact that they can have a meeting of the minds means a lot to them.

They can both be a bit detached and unemotional. This won't bother either one of them. They are more likely to discuss and analyze emotions than express them. They understand each other very well, and are happy to keep things informal. Both partners are interested in humanitarian causes and are interested in improving the future.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Gemini Moon Compatibility with Pisces Moon

Gemini Moon with Pisces Moon

Gemini Moon and Pisces Moon will have many challenges that will require some compromises. This pairing could work, but they really have very little in common. Both are impressionable in different ways; Gemini is sensitive to thoughts and Pisces is sensitive to feelings. Intellect meets intuition.

Gemini Moon is rational, restless, logical and objective while Pisces is receptive, sympathetic, artistic, passive and idealistic. Somewhere in the middle they meet with imagination and irresponsibility. Their differences are many. Gemini treats emotions very lightly and Pisces feels them deeply. Gemini grows through taking in more information while Pisces grows by letting go and trusting in a power greater than themselves. Gemini is focused on the future while Pisces dwells in the past. Gemini Moon is challenged by Pisces' erratic moods. Pisces Moon is threatened by Gemini's attempt to experience feelings as if they were just thoughts.

Dreamy Pisces Moon may be offended when witty Gemini Moon makes a joke in an attempt to deal with all the emotion flying around. If Gemini Moon can learn to take Pisces' feelings into account and understand their sensitivity...and if Pisces Moon can learn to appreciate Gemini's ability to be objective and rational, they can find a middle ground upon which to thrive together.

Cancer Moon Compatibility with Aries Moon

Cancer Moon with Aries Moon

Cancer Moon and Aries Moon must work diligently to make a relationship work between them. They have very little in common to work with. It is easy for Aries to run over Cancer's sensitive feelings without even realizing it. Everything Cancer Moon wants, Aries Moon doesn't. While they may be strongly attracted to each other physically, it usually doesn't take long for this pairing to figure out that they see the world in two very different ways.

Aries Moon tends to be more aggressive than Cancer can handle, though Cancer may learn to reflect those assertive energies back. Cancer Moon drives Aries crazy with their mood swings and emotional dependency. Cancer Moon needs to feel that they are needed, while Aries Moon is extremely independent. Cancer may end up feeling that Aries is selfish or uncaring, while Aries may feel that Cancer is too dependent and manipulative. Cancer is often indirect, hoping that Aries will be able to figure out what they mean, while the directness of Aries often wounds Cancer's sensitive soul.

The only way they can get along is they both need to learn to compromise greatly to keep their relationship going. The sensitivities of Cancer Moon and the directness of Aries Moon are so opposite that they hurt each other more often than not. They both just want completely different things out of life.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Cancer Moon Compatibility with Taurus Moon

Cancer Moon with Taurus Moon

Cancer Moon and Taurus Moon make a loyal couple. They are friends first, and share an abiding love of family and security. In fact, these two share a lot in common. They both love a comfortable home, familiar surroundings, good food and nurturing natures. They are both cautious about making changes to their plans and lives. Taurus Moon meets many of Cancer Moon's needs for emotional security and harmony. Cancer Moon meets many of Taurus Moon's needs for both stability and comfort.

Cancer Moon does tend to be a bit moody, which placid Taurus Moon may not ever understand. Taurus' steadiness, however, may make up for the fact that they just don't get it. Their impassiveness can irritate Cancer at times. Their commonalities make up for this, however. They both enjoy being domestic. They care for each other and their family in a very nurturing way. They are both dependable and would rather stay home than go off seeking excitement. All in all, this pairing should be highly successful and long lasting. They will build a beautiful home together and spend every moment possible together as a family. This could easily be the happy family everyone dreams about having someday.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Cancer Moon Compatibility with Gemini Moon

Cancer Moon with Gemini Moon

Cancer Moon and Gemini Moon might get along. One will end up being tolerant of the other's idiosyncrasies, and there may be some common threads upon which they base their relationship. There may be some karmic payback taking place.

This pairing creates misunderstandings. Gemini Moon wants to be intellectual and logical, solving problems with humor. Cancer Moon takes everything Gemini says personally. They are moody and sensitive and to thrive they need tender understanding and support. Gemini Moon wants to go out on the town and socialize; they crave mental stimulation. They get bored easily, and may get restless. They are not comfortable with displays of emotion. Cancer Moon wants to stay home in the cozy nest they have created. They love tradition and they really don't enjoy going out. They are sentimental and want to nurture. They may feel that Gemini doesn't care about them. These differences cause quite a bit of friction between the two.

With Gemini Moon's discomfort over Cancer's emotional state and Cancer Moon's hurt feelings over Gemini's glib attempt to make them feel better, things are never calm and peaceful with this couple. In order for there to be a successful relationship, Cancer needs to grow a thicker skin and Gemini needs to learn how to be a bit sentimental.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Cancer Moon Compatibility with Cancer Moon

Cancer Moon with Cancer Moon

Cancer Moon paired with Cancer Moon will show a common understanding about lots of things, but at the same time, when things go wrong, both feel it very strongly. This makes it difficult to get out of the panic mode and back to normal to find a solution.

Cancer Moon wants a secure home and family. They have a need to nurture and be creative. They can be moody, and if both are moody at the same time, it may feed into their own insecurities. Each may grow very dependent upon the other. While both partners are very cautious about change, they are dedicated to acquiring financial security and protecting the family.

Cancer Moon paired with Cancer Moon allows a rapport they can't get with anyone else. But while the strengths are wonderful, the weaknesses may really bring them down. One or both may become clingy and needy. When both need nurturing at the same time, there is no one left to take care of them. On the other hand, Cancer Moon can be rather difficult to live with, and who understands better than another Cancer Moon? Easily hurt and sensitive, this pairing can be very good and strong, or can be a real problem.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Cancer Moon Compatibility with Leo Moon

Cancer Moon with Leo Moon

Cancer Moon and Leo Moon may get along very well. One partner is usually more tolerant in this pairing. They may create a wonderfully fulfilling family. In some cases, they may notice that any negative feelings feel twice as strong in this relationship.

Both partners in this couple are protective and loyal. They may also be materialistic. Home and family is important to both. They love domestic tranquility. Cancer Moon may be moody, sensitive, cautious and private, while Leo Moon is sociable, has a good sense of humor and wants applause and recognition. This can be a good pairing because Leo's confidence can help Cancer's anxiousness. Cancer will appreciate Leo's indulgence when they feel needy. Cancer can nurture Leo's ego. On the down side, Leo's need to express themselves creatively may be inhibited by Cancer, and Cancer's need to be emotionally secure may be inhibited a bit by Leo. With a few adjustments, they both can express their needs more easily and give the other love in the way they best receive it.

Leo Moon's insecurities and problems are rarely brought out in the open, so it may be difficult for Cancer Moon to get to know them as intimately as they would wish to. Leo also has a tendency to blow everything out of proportion, which doesn't help Cancer feel secure. Cancer Moon is shy and private, which can make it difficult for Leo to be in the spotlight and gain the social recognition they crave. They can complement each other well with some effort. Cancer Moon will always support Leo's goals and will not compete for the spotlight. Leo Moon will show appreciation for Cancer's support and sympathy.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Cancer Moon Compatibility with Virgo Moon

Cancer Moon with Virgo Moon

Cancer Moon and Virgo Moon make great friends as well as a great couple. They are loyal to each other and they have a great respect and understanding for each other. This will most likely be a successful, long term relationship.

Cancer Moon and Virgo Moon are both moody and are conscious of their health. They do everything with caution, and tend to be quiet and unassuming. They make a terrific domestic partnership because Cancer takes care of the home and Virgo takes care of working to earn money. They express love differently...Cancer is tender, compassionate and sympathetic while Virgo chooses to express their love through practical acts like fixing the car or cooking a meal. Virgo tends to be somewhat judgmental of themselves and everyone else while Cancer is more accepting of others and their situations. Both are patient and tend to accumulate their security gradually.

Virgo Moon can be difficult to live with due to their fussiness about proper behavior, cleanliness, hygiene and so forth. They get irritated by those who cannot live up their standards. Virgo also turns this harsh standard on themselves, however, which can make them feel inadequate. Cancer can help Virgo learn self-acceptance and self-love. They can help them to relax and enjoy themselves. With all of Cancer's emotional roller coasters, they can really appreciate Virgo's devotion and faithfulness as a rock to cling to.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Cancer Moon Compatibility with Libra Moon

Cancer Moon with Libra Moon

Cancer Moon and Libra Moon will have some challenges that will need to be overcome through compromise. While they can share understanding and have respect for one another, they tend to grate on each other.

Both partners crave domestic harmony. They both do everything they can to please the other and make them comfortable. They are each sensitive to their partner's needs and opinions. They are both threatened by conflict, and may avoid confrontation, letting things fester out of control. Cancer Moon will become moody and Libra Moon will try to be diplomatic. Cancer Moon will be challenged by Libra's inability to relate to them on the deep level they want, and Libra Moon will be challenged by Cancer's instinctual behavior rather than reasoning things out.

Cancer Moon needs security and family. Libra Moon needs a partner. Cancer may end up parenting Libra, which is exactly what Libra does not want. This pairing can work if both partners are willing to make compromises and deal with each other's weaknesses. It won't be easy, even though they do share several qualities. They just react differently to the same situations. If they are lucky, they will be able to make a bridge across their differences.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Cancer Moon Compatibility with Scorpio Moon

Cancer Moon with Scorpio Moon

Cancer Moon and Scorpio Moon will share a great respect and understanding. They are a very well matched pair. Both partners will become deeply attached to each other. Nurturing Cancer and passionate Scorpio can plumb the emotional depths like no one else. Both partners are intuitive and sensitive to each others' needs and feelings. These two want a committed relationship. They may tend to lose objectivity and perspective about their relationship.

This pairing is almost a psychic bonding that nurtures them both and can transform them both spiritually and emotionally. Scorpio is happy to have Cancer totally dependent upon them, because secretly, Scorpio is equally as dependent upon Cancer. Their differences can be found, but they won't make much of a fuss between them. Scorpio is passionate and emotional, with strong hates and equally strong loves.

They react emotionally to people and situations. They reveal themselves to few, as they don't like to appear vulnerable. They can be vindictive when hurt. Cancer is soft, gentle and tender. While Scorpio's intensity can sometimes upset them, they are very sympathetic and understanding. They strive for a nurturing, peaceful atmosphere at home where they can all be happy.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Cancer Moon Compatibility with Sagittarius Moon

Cancer Moon with Sagittarius Moon

Cancer Moon and Sagittarius Moon have little natural compatibility, though if they are dedicated and willing to work on their relationship, it could work out. Their biggest problem is they want different things. Each person in this relationship has an entirely different approach to life.

Cancer Moon is cautious, wants security and strong roots. Sagittarius Moon is enthusiastic, optimistic and wants to be free to follow the wind. Cancer is supportive, nurturing and sympathetic; Sagittarius is frank, tactless and a bit superficial. Cancer prefers the familiar, routine and family commitments. Sagittarius wants new experiences, adventures and is willing to pick up and move to someplace new at a moment's notice.

There may be problems over extravagant spending and lack of planning financially. Sagittarius' impatience with Cancer's sentimentality and nostalgia can make for some uncomfortable scenes. They may try to reason Cancer's moodiness away or ignore it completely, leaving Cancer feeling misunderstood and alone. Cancer's fascination with the past is equaled only by Sagittarius' fascination with the future. They may feel dragged down by Cancer's neediness and emotions. They don't take things personally like Cancer, and they end up hurting Cancer's feelings without realizing it. They may frustrate themselves by trying to inhibit their own self-expression to accommodate Cancer. Cancer can learn and benefit from Sagittarius' optimism and humor, and Sagittarius can learn to accept feelings on a deeper level thanks to Cancer.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Cancer Moon Compatibility with Capricorn Moon

Cancer Moon with Capricorn Moon

Cancer Moon and Capricorn Moon can work out very well together. They are either the best of pals or arguing, there never seems to be an in between. They differ in how they understand the world, but if they can work together, this can be a very good match.

Cancer Moon is caring, emotional and moody while Capricorn Moon is uncomfortable with feelings and emotions. Cancer wants to be close and nurturing; Capricorn prefers to keep a bit of a distance to the point that they will put off their own needs in favor of work and responsibilities. Both partners are hardworking, patient and responsible. Capricorn may have difficulty being there for Cancer emotionally even if they are there physically.

Both partners are very committed and loyal, and it is here that they can truly connect. Cancer can help Capricorn understand that they need tenderness and love as much as anyone else. While Capricorn hates others being too dependent, they learn to appreciate Cancer's softness and nurturing. Cancer can get a lot from Capricorn's strength and emotional stability in a relationship.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Cancer Moon Compatibility with Aquarius Moon

Cancer Moon with Aquarius Moon

Cancer Moon and Aquarius Moon have a lot of differences to overcome. This relationship can easily become unbalanced unless a lot of care is taken. They both come at life from different directions, and understand things very differently.

Cancer Moon and Aquarius Moon both have a lot of concern for others, but Cancer approaches this from a personal level while Aquarius is more concerned with mankind as a whole. Cancer Moon wants a home and family. They want to be safe and secure. Aquarius Moon wants change, new ideas and won't hesitate to put social issues ahead of family. Cancer wants commitment, Aquarius wants freedom. Cancer relies on instinct and emotions while Aquarius is not in touch with personal feelings, they are far more objective.

Aquarius Moon's ability to put family last will hurt Cancer more often than not. They don't hold the same ideals, and Aquarius will suddenly make a radical change without consulting Cancer, throwing them into chaos. Cancer feels very insecure in these situations and when Aquarius asserts their need for independence. If Aquarius can learn to be sensitive to Cancer's attachments and feelings, they may learn to move a bit more slowly. Cancer can help Aquarius become more involved with their own feelings, while Aquarius can help Cancer gain perspective and clarity. They can be quite complementary if they can work out their differences.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Cancer Moon Compatibility with Pisces Moon

Cancer Moon with Pisces Moon

Cancer Moon and Pisces Moon rate a perfect ten. They have very similar motivations and desires. They are extremely happy together and will have a long relationship. They have a great deal in common.

Both partners are very receptive and can intuit the moods of those around them. They have an innate knowing of each other's inner needs. Both partners are nurturing and sympathetic, ready to run to their partner at a moment's notice to help them out. They will create a peaceful home that will allow them to replenish their souls and deepen their emotional bond.

Cancer Moon looks out for the material needs while Pisces Moon looks out for their spiritual needs. They understand each other extremely well. They share many similarities. They may be able to communicate with each other without speaking, knowing intuitively what the other replies. They both need to take care not to absorb the troubles and emotions of those around them. Their empathy can end up hurting them. This will be a very thoughtful, tender relationship of quiet fulfillment.

Leo Moon compatibility with Aries Moon

Leo Moon with Aries Moon

Leo Moon and Aries Moon are very compatible. They have a great deal of respect for each other, as they have a lot in common. Both of them are independent and believe in strength. They both want to be loved.

While Aries Moon wants things now, Leo Moon wants things to last forever. Aries is happy being noticed, while Leo is happiest when they are the center of attention. They may keep these desires secret, and harbor ill will towards the partner that gets more attention than they do. These issues can cause some disagreement or competition, but if both partners are willing to work it out, they can be overcome without too much difficulty.

Both Leo Moon and Aries Moon will hide behind their own individual strength, wanting to repress any feelings of neediness, weakness or inadequacy. They are too proud to admit they may need help. Overall, these two signs can have a long and happy future together as long as they work out the little jealousy issues that may crop up from time to time. They are both very supportive of each other and can help each grow in the direction they wish for.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Leo Moon Compatibility with Taurus Moon

Leo Moon with Taurus Moon

Leo Moon and Taurus Moon may get along with some compromising along the way. This is usually done by one partner rather than equally. They may share a common bond that keeps them together despite the challenges. Both partners are loyal, protective and enjoy comfort. They each want someone who is steadfast, warm and committed to the relationship. Both are generous to a fault, yet inflexible about their individual opinions.

Taurus Moon may find Leo Moon's need to be the center of attention and playfulness distracting or challenging at times. Leo Moon may think that Taurus Moon doesn't pay them enough attention or they may think Taurus lacks a sense of humor. Both have a solid stubborn streak that may make compromising difficult. They use their resources very differently. Leo's loud melodramatics may disrupt Taurus' serenity at times.

This combination can be very tricky since there are so many similarities, yet those differences really create issues. With a lot of work between these two, this pairing could work. Unless both partners are truly committed to making it work, however, it will be a hard road to follow despite their similarities. Each partner has the impulse to drop the relationship and move on, yet they both understand the potential underneath for an amazing, productive relationship.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Leo Moon Compatibility with Gemini Moon

Leo Moon with Gemini Moon

Leo Moon and Gemini Moon are loyal friends to each other. They have enough in common that they should make a great couple. They both enjoy a good sense of humor; they both are witty and enjoy life. They are both fun-loving and have an optimistic outlook on life.

Gemini Moon likes to flit from one activity to the next, socializing as they go. Leo Moon takes things more seriously. They truly want to be appreciated. They are passionate and want a stable home life. Gemini doesn't take life seriously, and may end up hurting Leo's feelings at times. Leo has a very strong sense of pride that can easily be bruised.

On the good side, Gemini Moon's ease of networking with others can work in Leo's favor. They can make connections and find opportunities that will let Leo shine. Most of the time, this pairing will get along famously and complement each other well. As long as they can work through their minor differences, this could be a terrific relationship for both parties.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Leo Moon Compatibility with Cancer Moon

Leo Moon with Cancer Moon

Leo Moon and Cancer Moon may get along very well. One partner is usually more tolerant in this pairing. They may create a wonderfully fulfilling family. In some cases, they may notice that any negative feelings feel twice as strong in this relationship.

Both partners in this couple are protective and loyal. They may also be materialistic. Home and family is important to both. They love domestic tranquility. Cancer Moon may be moody, sensitive, cautious and private, while Leo Moon is sociable, has a good sense of humor and wants applause and recognition. This can be a good pairing because Leo's confidence can help Cancer's anxiousness. Cancer will appreciate Leo's indulgence when they feel needy. Cancer can nurture Leo's ego. On the down side, Leo's need to express themselves creatively may be inhibited by Cancer, and Cancer's need to be emotionally secure may be inhibited a bit by Leo. With a few adjustments, they both can express their needs more easily and give the other love in the way they best receive it.

Leo Moon's insecurities and problems are rarely brought out in the open, so it may be difficult for Cancer Moon to get to know them as intimately as they would wish to. Leo also has a tendency to blow everything out of proportion, which doesn't help Cancer feel secure. Cancer Moon is shy and private, which can make it difficult for Leo to be in the spotlight and gain the social recognition they crave. They can complement each other well with some effort. Cancer Moon will always support Leo's goals and will not compete for the spotlight. Leo Moon will show appreciation for Cancer's support and sympathy.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Leo Moon with Leo Moon

Leo Moon with Leo Moon

Unlike many couples who are the same Moon sign, Leo Moon paired with Leo Moon is fraught with challenges. While they do want the same things, they are so competitive for these desires that they are constantly at odds. They will admire each other, but in order to make this relationship work, they need more than admiration.

Both partners want to be the center of attention. This will cause strife right off the bat as the one getting less attention will sulk and feel sorry for themselves. They both enjoy grand gestures and drama. While they are loyal, it may not be enough to keep them together. The only way this couple will work is if each person is centered on the other, giving them their full attention and respect. While both want to be in charge, they will need to take turns to be truly happy. They need to learn how to feed their egos without doing it at the expense of the other.

Their sunny personalities prevent them from admitting their weaknesses, and they may have problems opening up to each other. If they can work out their issues, they can be a strong, happy couple. It is the rare Leo combo that can do this, however.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Leo Moon with Virgo Moon

Leo Moon with Virgo Moon

Leo Moon and Virgo Moon have about a fifty-fifty chance of making their relationship work. Negative feelings that come up may feel stronger in this pairing. While they share many outlooks, they respond differently.

Leo Moon and Virgo Moon are two sides of the same coin in a way. While Leo is dramatic, seeking attention and glory, Virgo is quiet, reserved and content to be in the background. Leo wants to show their feelings in grand gestures while Virgo prefers to show their feelings in quiet, practical ways. Leo is a bit lazy, funny and playful and Virgo is hardworking, disciplined and organized. Leo wants praise; Virgo gives criticism. While both partners value family and a good home life, they approach it differently. Leo sees their home and family as a reflection of themselves, while Virgo views it as an opportunity to strive for perfection through service.

Problems may stem from Leo's need for recognition and approval while Virgo's critical approach may make both of them rather inhibited. Virgo's rather conservative lifestyle may find Leo a bit embarrassing. In order for this relationship to work, both sides will need to adjust to accommodate the other person's needs.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Leo Moon with Libra Moon

Leo Moon with libra Moon

Leo Moon and Libra Moon are fairly well matched. They share a deep friendship and loyalty that builds a foundation for what could be a very long relationship. Affectionate and romantic, both partners want a family and love to care for children. They are friendly and personable.

Leo Moon wants to be the center attraction and tends to be a bit authoritarian. Libra Moon is accommodating and diplomatic. This can bother Libra at times, as they feel they may be compromising too often. Leo may get frustrated with Libra's indecisiveness. They both have strong wills that may oppose each other once in awhile. While Leo Moon is a bit egotistical and individualistic, Libra Moon learns more about themselves through the give and take of relationships. They find it easy to cooperate and harmonize. They can make an amazingly loving relationship.

What makes this pairing work is Leo's honor and appreciation of Libra's ability and willingness to see both sides of a situation. They have a great time together. Libra will find Leo's inner strength very attractive. They are a good match emotionally, and they can usually make a very durable relationship together.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Leo Moon with Scorpio Moon

Leo Moon with Scorpio Moon

Leo Moon and Scorpio Moon will challenge each other greatly. One will need to make compromises to make the relationship work. This may lead to resentment. Both partners here need commitment and loyalty from each other. Neither one is into brief one night stands. They are each strong willed, inflexible and proud. They both need to feel they are in control.

Leo Moon always sees the bright side, while Scorpio Moon tends to dwell on the dark. Leo is direct, warm, humorous and outgoing; Scorpio is private, jealous, distrustful and deep. There is a lot for this pairing to overcome to create a successful relationship. If they are successful, they will be surrounded by great intensity and power. In order to do this, they need to let go of their fears of intimacy and reveal their true natures.

Scorpio Moon is more suspicious of what lies on the surface. They are always searching for the motives of others. Leo Moon accepts others on face value, and they may feel that Scorpio is stirring up trouble where it doesn't exist. As long as each person is willing to accept the differences in the other, this relationship may work out. If they have the drive to stick it out, they could have a very nice time together.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Leo Moon with Sagittarius Moon

Leo Moon with Sagittarius Moon

Leo Moon and Sagittarius Moon make a happy couple. They have a great amount of understanding on how the other one ticks. Friendly, generous and optimistic, these two play very well together. They will have a great time going out together, playing games, and living free.

Leo Moon is very loyal, and they want to know that they have Sagittarius' full attention. They also need to feel appreciated to be happy. Sagittarius Moon needs to feel the winds of freedom, both emotionally and at home. They may be rather tactless, which may hurt Leo's pride. Leo takes everything very personally. If they can overcome these small issues, they can have a very fulfilling life together. They may be very lucky when they are together, and they will prosper almost effortlessly in the eyes of others.

These two are great fun to be around. They suit each other to a T the majority of the time. You may find them traveling the world, clubbing, and enjoying all manners of sport. Enterprising and cheerful, these two will certainly light up any room they walk into.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Leo Moon with Capricorn Moon

Leo Moon with Capricorn Moon

Leo Moon and Capricorn Moon may be happy together, but usually one partner ends up constantly trying to please the other. In most cases, Leo Moon won't appreciate the directness of Capricorn, and Capricorn Moon won't appreciate the generosity of Leo.

These two are opposites. Leo Moon wants to make the dramatic gesture and attract attention; Capricorn Moon is more serious, subdued and controlled. Leo Moon may be playful and a bit lazy; Capricorn Moon is responsible and hardworking. Leo Moon shows love through romantic gestures and expects praise. Capricorn Moon shows love through practical gifts like making a meal or taking the car into the shop. Both Leo and Capricorn will tend to feel inhibited and overwhelmed by the other.

Their differences will stand out, causing them to constantly create unhappiness in their partner unless they can learn to accommodate the other. This is a very difficult pairing to make work. The detachment of Capricorn Moon will drive Leo Moon to distraction. They will never feel the center of attention while the detachment is there. Leo's need for praise and attention tends to make Capricorn pull out their hair. Chances are both partners will feel it is time to cut their losses and move on at some point in this relationship.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Leo Moon with Aquarius Moon

Leo Moon with Aquarius Moon

Leo Moon and Aquarius Moon can have an incredible relationship, or they could fight over just about everything. If they make sure that they are both on the same page, they should be a good match. Once they make the effort to understand the other's point of view, they should be able to work together.

Leo Moon likes groups as long as the group is focused on them. Aquarius Moon needs a group, yet wants to stand out. Leo loves to be the adored head of a traditional family while Aquarius wants change, new things and wants to dedicate their lives to helping mankind. Leo lives in the present and wants to spend their time enjoying it. Aquarius lives for the future. Leo will probably be annoyed by Aquarius' ability to place family after their causes.

If they can learn from each other, Aquarius will be able to learn to appreciate closeness and intimacy while Leo can learn the value of free will. Their individual choices will challenge the other. It may be difficult for them to find a domestic routine. Leo Moon can get their feelings hurt when Aquarius treats them just like everyone else instead of the special being Leo knows they are. Aquarius can resent the authority that Leo exudes. This relationship will need a lot of work from both partners to find a happy balance.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Leo Moon with Pisces Moon

Leo Moon with Pisces Moon

Leo Moon and Pisces Moon need to take care. One may feel they are always bending over backwards to make the other one happy. This may end up being a very unbalanced relationship. Even though there is a strong attraction, it may be very difficult to deal with the everyday routine of a long term relationship.

Leo Moon and Pisces Moon do share some goals. They both find home and family very important. They just look at the world in very different ways. Leo Moon will run the show with their natural authority. This also fulfills their need to be the center of attention. Pisces Moon tends to be gentle and very receptive of other people's feelings. They will tend to overlook their own needs and desires to keep Leo happy. Leo Moon is warm, loud, boisterous and melodramatic. Pisces tends to feel victimized and full of melancholy. They may soak up some of Leo's confidence, however, which can be a good thing. They may both misunderstand the other because they tend to see things their way or how they want them to be. Leo is a bit narcissistic at times. In order to get what they want they may be loud or exaggerate.

In order for this relationship to truly be balanced, Pisces needs to step up and pursue their own dreams. Leo needs to understand that Pisces is not a doormat that should acquiesce to their every whim. Pisces tends to reflect the feelings around them, so this can be good when Leo is in a great mood. It can be very bad when Leo is feeling down, as Pisces is normally on the down side anyway.

Virgo Moon compatibility with Aries Moon

Virgo Moon with Aries Moon

Virgo Moon and Aries Moon can make a relationship work, but it may take some effort on the part of both people. They get along fairly well most of the time until circumstances cause them to react. This is what brings out their differences. Virgo and Aries both need to try to work in harmony.

Passionate Aries likes to jump right into things and take chances. They are enthusiastic and loud. Stable Virgo, on the other hand, prefers to analyze the situation first and draw up a plan. They are sensitive and tend to worry. While Aries is bossy, Virgo is critical. They may allow the tension to grow between them or grow impatient with each other. They both approach life's situations very differently. This may end up causing so much irritation the relationship is unsalvageable.

Aries Moon will tend to burst out with their anger, which in turn will make Virgo Moon nervous and sensitive. Virgo's perfectionist ways will bring criticism down on Aries, as they really don't care if they make mistakes along the way. These criticisms can prove to be very discouraging to Aries, who needs to feel loved and supported to maintain their enthusiasm.

If Virgo Moon and Aries Moon are to make a go of it, Aries needs to share their creative ideas and allow Virgo to help bring them to fruition.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Virgo Moon Compatibility with Taurus Moon

Virgo Moon with Taurus Moon

Virgo Moon and Taurus Moon are extremely compatible. They have a great deal of respect and understanding for each other. Taurus is stable and pragmatic; Virgo is practical and attends to detail. They are made for each other. Both partners are cautious and approach new things slowly. They both enjoy working with nature and natural materials. Both are concerned about how change will affect them.

Their differences lie in how they react. While Taurus Moon will forge ahead once they commit to an idea, Virgo Moon will constantly second guess and criticize their choice. The worrying done by Virgo will be comforted by Taurus' steadiness and emotional stability. Taurus, in turn, helps Virgo to relax and become more instinctual. Virgo Moon may become annoyed with the lackadaisical way that Taurus Moon leaves things all over the house.

Overall, however, this is a happy and content pairing. They meet each others' needs for intimacy and pleasant company. They will be most content in the country or if they are able to grow a garden or at least go camping frequently. They have a need to interact with nature in some way. This pairing should do very well with minimal effort.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Virgo Moon Compatibility with Gemini Moon

Virgo Moon with Gemini Moon

Virgo Moon and Gemini Moon are not very well matched, though they can make it work if they are dedicated to the relationship. There will be challenges in this pairing. One of the pair must compromise to overcome the irritations created by these personalities.

Gemini Moon is restless and wants new challenges and ideas. They love to socialize and meet new people. Virgo Moon is a perfectionist who isn't afraid to work hard to get what they want. They are talented with details and organizing. Gemini Moon is superficial and optimistic; Virgo Moon is pessimistic and critical. They have a strong sense of responsibility and service to others. Gemini will take on more projects than they can handle easily and often leaves them unfinished. Virgo also takes on many projects, but they work on one at a time until they are finished down to every meticulous detail.

Both partners may find themselves stretched thin from overwork. Virgo Moon will take it upon themselves to bring nutritious foods and healthy habits into the relationship. They find it irritating when things are out of place. They are more disciplined than Gemini and they want to improve themselves. Gemini Moon finds it easier to relax and play than Virgo does. They do share a passion for word games and other knowledge challenges. It will take work, but they could make a lasting relationship out of this if they try.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Virgo Moon Compatibility with Cancer Moon

Virgo Moon with Cancer Moon

Virgo Moon and Cancer Moon make great friends as well as a great couple; they are loyal to each other and they have a great respect and understanding for each other. This will most likely be a successful, long term relationship.

Virgo Moon and Cancer Moon are both moody and are conscious of their health. They do everything with caution, and tend to be quiet and unassuming. They make a terrific domestic partnership because Cancer takes care of the home and Virgo takes care of working to earn money. They express love differently...Cancer is tender, compassionate and sympathetic while Virgo chooses to express their love through practical acts like fixing the car or cooking a meal. Virgo tends to be somewhat judgmental of themselves and everyone else while Cancer is more accepting of others and their situations. Both are patient and tend to accumulate their security gradually.

Virgo Moon can be difficult to live with due to their fussiness about proper behavior, cleanliness, hygiene and so forth. They get irritated by those who cannot live up their standards. Virgo also turns this harsh standard on themselves, however, which can make them feel inadequate. Cancer can help Virgo learn self-acceptance and self-love. They can help them to relax and enjoy themselves. With all of Cancer's emotional roller coasters, they can really appreciate Virgo's devotion and faithfulness as a rock to cling to.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Virgo Moon with Leo Moon

Virgo Moon with Leo Moon

Virgo Moon and Leo Moon have about a fifty-fifty chance of making their relationship work. Negative feelings that come up may feel stronger in this pairing. While they share many outlooks, they respond differently.

Virgo Moon and Leo Moon are two sides of the same coin in a way. While Leo is dramatic, seeking attention and glory, Virgo is quiet, reserved and content to be in the background. Leo wants to show their feelings in grand gestures while Virgo prefers to show their feelings in quiet, practical ways. Leo is a bit lazy, funny and playful and Virgo is hardworking, disciplined and organized. Leo wants praise; Virgo gives criticism. While both partners value family and a good home life, they approach it differently. Leo sees their home and family as a reflection of themselves, while Virgo views it as an opportunity to strive for perfection through service.

Problems may stem from Leo's need for recognition and approval while Virgo's critical approach may make both of them rather inhibited. Virgo's rather conservative lifestyle may find Leo a bit embarrassing. In order for this relationship to work, both sides will need to adjust to accommodate the other person's needs.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Virgo Moon with Virgo Moon

Virgo Moon with Virgo Moon

Virgo Moon and Virgo Moon have a lot in common. There is, however, such a concept as too much of a good thing. While Virgo is fastidious, practical and detail oriented, two at the same time can be overwhelming, even for Virgos.

Two Virgo Moons together will tend to focus on their flaws rather than their good points. There is no one to counteract their habit of worrying about trivial things and fear of being less than perfect. Each will demand perfection of the other. Both partners are rather unemotional, yet very sensitive. Each partner will tend to make life difficult for the other. If they can learn not to nag each other over trivial things, that is a step in the right direction.

On the good side, Virgo Moons are wonderful for lavishing care and devotion on those things and people who are important to them. Though they may not show it to the world at large, they can be very giving and thoughtful.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Virgo Moon with Libra Moon

Virgo Moon with Libra Moon

Virgo Moon and Libra Moon may be able to make a go of it. One partner may end up being more tolerant of the other. Negative feelings seem to be magnified with this pairing.

There are many differences with this couple. Virgo Moon wants to create a home with perfect order and efficiency. Libra Moon wants to create a perfect relationship with complete equality. Virgo focuses on the details and organization of things and how best to perform tasks. Libra focuses on creating an environment free of discord and conflict. While Libra is diplomatic, there is only so much criticism they can take.

The biggest difference these two have is based on perfection. Libra sees perfection as harmonious and free of tension while Virgo sees perfection as efficiency and organization. Virgo also wants themselves to live up to their own high ideals, and it is just as difficult for them as it is for Libra. This makes them very self critical. Both partners respond in a more logical manner than emotional. If they are to make this relationship work, both partners will need to come to some sort of compromise.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Virgo Moon with Scorpio Moon

Virgo Moon with Scorpio Moon

Virgo Moon and Scorpio Moon are fairly well matched. They share many of the same opinions and have a strong respect for each other. They also have some fundamental differences that they will need to work with in order to remain together.

Virgo Moon is logical, yet may be overly critical of themselves and others. They cannot detach themselves easily when they should just let something go. They tend to be perfectionists. Scorpio Moon is emotional, analytical and intuitive. They love secrets, and have a need to get to the root of them. Both partners may over-analyze themselves and others. They both want to improve themselves, but through different methods. Both are loyal to the end. Emotions and sex may embarrass Virgo, while Scorpio needs that intensity to feel complete. They can be good for each other if they can get over their differences.

Scorpio Moon may hide their feelings of guilt or jealousy from Virgo. They can be manipulative in a subtle way, as they feel a need to be in control. Virgo Moon appears shy and restrained, and they may not know how to deal with the intensity of Scorpio's moods. Both can be sensitive to criticism in their own ways. With work and dedication, they may keep the relationship going.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Virgo Moon with Sagittarius Moon

Virgo Moon with Sagittarius Moon

Virgo Moon and Sagittarius Moon may or may not get along. They will have many challenges to face and one will need to make compromises to make things work out. They both approach the world from different viewpoints that may make it difficult for them to connect deeply.

Practical Virgo will have their hands full with adventurous Sagittarius. Their biggest challenge is to learn that they really aren't that different... they just see things differently. If they can manage to put themselves in each others shoes once in awhile, it will really help smooth out their relationship.

The smaller challenges will deal with practical matters. Virgo Moon will want to set a little aside for a rainy day, while Sagittarius will point out that the sky is cloudy now, so why not spend? Virgo wants everything organized and planned; Sagittarius doesn't like anything that gets in the way of their freedom and spontaneity. While the initial attraction is strong, it may prove too difficult to make it last. This will be especially true if each partner tries to convert the other over to their own way of doing things.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Virgo Moon with Capricorn Moon

Virgo Moon with Capricorn Moon

Virgo Moon and Capricorn Moon are the best of friends the moment they meet. They can't believe their luck in finding someone who shares so many things in common. They are highly compatible, and this relationship should work out well for all concerned.

Both Virgo Moon and Capricorn Moon are organized and practical. They both work hard and want to be useful. Both are willing to forego their own desires and feelings in lieu of responsibilities. They are self-disciplined and meticulous. They are faithful, constant and don't like risks. They will happily tread the safe, logical path to financial security. Together they can have a very powerful connection. Others may view them as boring, but they feel secure and happy. They need to make sure they don't expect too much of themselves. With their self-critical tendencies, they can undermine their own work.

They do need to be wary of overwork. All work and no play will make even Virgo Moon and Capricorn Moon dull. If they can learn to relax and enjoy themselves as well as maintain their responsibilities, they will be extremely happy.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Virgo Moon with Aquarius Moon

Virgo Moon with Aquarius Moon

Virgo Moon and Aquarius Moon may try too hard to please each other, creating an imbalance in the relationship. They have different ways of looking at the world, which may present them with a few challenges.

One of the biggest challenges they will face is the fact that Virgo Moon is practical, while Aquarius Moon thinks mostly of humanity as a whole instead of their close relationships. While Aquarius' visionary ideals may take them far afield, Virgo tends to hold down the fort.

While Virgo Moon wants a traditional home and family, Aquarius will find it easy to push them to second place. They appreciate Virgo's loyalty, but they are called to bigger things. Virgo is most happy when following a tried and true method for success, while Aquarius is more likely to try new things and experiment. Both partners can easily lose themselves in their interest of the moment.

They may both become out of touch with their own feelings and emotions. Virgo Moon may turn their criticism on themselves, blaming themselves for Aquarius' willingness to push their family life aside. On the good side, both partners can learn to expand their horizons a bit if they can understand each others perspectives a bit more.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Virgo Moon with Pisces Moon

Virgo Moon with Pisces Moon

Virgo Moon and Pisces Moon can be a very good relationship or a very bad one. Technically these two signs are just barely compatible. If both partners are watching for intolerance or misunderstanding, they may be able to make their relationship work.

Virgo Moon is the perfect person to deal with the physical world and all its details. Pisces Moon, on the other hand, is disorganized, undisciplined and tends to have their head in the clouds. Some of these attributes may drive Virgo crazy, but they can also learn from Pisces' tolerant attitude. Likewise, Pisces could learn a thing or two about personal responsibility and boundaries from Virgo. Pisces Moon may get their feelings hurt by Virgo's critical nature. Both partners tend to be moody and pessimistic. They may both be a bit passive. If they learn to work together, they can be quite complementary to each other.

Once Virgo Moon and Pisces Moon learn to work together, their lives can run rather smoothly. Their shared introspection can help them to overcome adversity and they can divide the daily tasks according to their temperaments. They should have a lovely, nurturing home life once they iron out the kinks.

Libra Moon Compatibility with Aries Moon

Libra Moon with Aries Moon

Libra Moon and Aries Moon can be perfect together... or they can make the worst pairing ever. While they can be compatible in some ways, in others they are the total opposites. The passion Aries has for everything is tempered by Libra's need to talk through everything.

Libra Moon thrives on relationships. They know how to share and blend their lives with another person. Aries Moon is more independent, which can leave Libra feeling abandoned at times. While they often make sparks romantically, there may be misunderstandings in what roles each wants the other to play. Aries Moon likes to be in charge and make all the decisions. This seems perfect for indecisive Libra Moon, but Libra may end up making all the compromises and may end up feeling taken advantage of. Libra doesn't like emotional outbursts, and Aries thrives on them. Libra would rather discuss their problems and work them out, while Aries would rather ignore it until it goes away.

While it is possible for them to make a compatible match, this relationship will take a lot of work. Since Libra likes everything in balance, they may end up just cutting their losses after awhile if it looks like that balance will never be attainable.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Libra Moon Compatibility with Taurus Moon

Libra Moon with Taurus Moon

Libra Moon and Taurus Moon can have a wonderfully fulfilling relationship. They share a love for the sensual and the artistic things in life. They also have enough differences to keep the interest going. This pairing can easily get out of balance, however. One partner may end up feeling they are always trying to please the other.

Both Libra Moon and Taurus Moon prefer harmony at home. They would rather avoid any unpleasantness or discord. Libra is attracted to Taurus' magnetic personality, but Taurus may fall into predictable routines, which don't feed Libra's need for romance. Both partners love the same things, but they want to experience them through different senses. Taurus prefers to experience through the senses, while Libra prefers to experience things through their intellect. They may end up projecting their own imperfections on the other and creating a constant current of dissatisfaction. They need to work on this if they want harmony in their relationship.

Both partners need to learn to take the initiative and face any problems head on instead of letting them slide until they grow too large to overcome. By acknowledging these issues when they begin, this pairing is setting themselves up to succeed.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Libra Moon Compatibility with Gemini Moon

Libra Moon with Gemini Moon

Libra Moon and Gemini Moon are a perfect couple. They share so many things...they understand each other, they have the same opinions and respect the other greatly. This is truly a charming couple. Both partners are rational and love to reason things out. They are a bit uncomfortable with open displays of emotion. They both love to socialize.

Gemini Moon tends to focus on ideas, while Libra Moon is centered on ideals of relationships. This works to make a nice balanced give and take in the relationship. They love to talk and make great companions for each other. They are a tender, affectionate couple that will create a peaceful home. Each inspires the other to more creativity and success.

Any problems that arise are dealt with logically so the outcome is fair to all. Both partners may overlook their own fears or issues. Libra will do this to keep everything happy and harmonious. Gemini will detach from the problem when it becomes emotional. Their conversations are always stimulating. Libra Moon will focus on people and situations while Gemini Moon will leap from idea to idea. They will make great friends as well as do well in a romantic relationship.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Libra Moon Compatibility with Cancer Moon

Libra Moon with Cancer Moon

Libra Moon and Cancer Moon will have some challenges that will need to be overcome through compromise. While they can share understanding and have respect for one another, they tend to grate on each other.

Both partners crave domestic harmony. They both do everything they can to please the other and make them comfortable. They are each sensitive to their partner's needs and opinions. They are both threatened by conflict, and may avoid confrontation, letting things fester out of control. Cancer Moon will become moody and Libra Moon will try to be diplomatic. Cancer Moon will be challenged by Libra's inability to relate to them on the deep level they want, and Libra Moon will be challenged by Cancer's instinctual behavior rather than reasoning things out.

Cancer Moon needs security and family. Libra Moon needs a partner. Cancer may end up parenting Libra, which is exactly what Libra does not want. This pairing can work if both partners are willing to make compromises and deal with each other's weaknesses. It won't be easy, even though they do share several qualities. They just react differently to the same situations. If they are lucky, they will be able to make a bridge across their differences.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Libra Moon Compatibility with Leo Moon

Libra Moon with Leo Moon

Libra Moon and Leo Moon are fairly well matched. They share a deep friendship and loyalty that builds a foundation for what could be a very long relationship. Affectionate and romantic, both partners want a family and love to care for children. They are friendly and personable.

Leo Moon wants to be the center attraction and tends to be a bit authoritarian. Libra Moon is accommodating and diplomatic. This can bother Libra at times, as they feel they may be compromising too often. Leo may get frustrated with Libra's indecisiveness. They both have strong wills that may oppose each other once in awhile. While Leo Moon is a bit egotistical and individualistic, Libra Moon learns more about themselves through the give and take of relationships. They find it easy to cooperate and harmonize. They can make an amazingly loving relationship.

What makes this pairing work is Leo's honor and appreciation of Libra's ability and willingness to see both sides of a situation. They have a great time together. Libra will find Leo's inner strength very attractive. They are a good match emotionally, and they can usually make a very durable relationship together.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Libra Moon Compatibility with Virgo Moon

Libra Moon with Virgo Moon

Libra Moon and Virgo Moon may be able to make a go of it. One partner may end up being more tolerant of the other. Negative feelings seem to be magnified with this pairing.

There are many differences with this couple. Virgo Moon wants to create a home with perfect order and efficiency. Libra Moon wants to create a perfect relationship with complete equality. Virgo focuses on the details and organization of things and how best to perform tasks. Libra focuses on creating an environment free of discord and conflict. While Libra is diplomatic, there is only so much criticism they can take.

The biggest difference these two have is based on perfection. Libra sees perfection as harmonious and free of tension while Virgo sees perfection as efficiency and organization. Virgo also wants themselves to live up to their own high ideals, and it is just as difficult for them as it is for Libra. This makes them very self critical. Both partners respond in a more logical manner than emotional. If they are to make this relationship work, both partners will need to come to some sort of compromise.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Libra Moon Compatibility with Libra Moon

Libra Moon with Libra Moon

Libra Moon matched with another Libra Moon may get along or may not. While they share many attributes and share a love of all things elegant and sophisticated, they can never make a decision, even one as simple as what to have for dinner. When they get into a negative mood, it will be amplified in this pairing.

On the good side, Libra Moons love to please and avoid conflict. They want a harmonious relationship, and with another Libra Moon, they may get one...at the cost of never talking about issues until they blow up in their face. They both like to be fair, and love to talk. The art of conversation was invented by a Libra. Their home will be comfortable and lovely. Since Libra doesn't feel complete without a partner, having two together may appear like two clinging vines who can't do anything without the other.

Disagreements may be few or many. While they will try to explain their points of view to the other, they may end up having trouble with the right compromise. One or the other may end up feeling slighted. Of course, they will never mention that since they are too diplomatic to start the disagreement all over again.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Libra Moon Compatibility with Scorpio Moon

Libra Moon with Scorpio Moon

Libra Moon and Scorpio Moon may get along fine, especially if one partner is willing to put up with the eccentricities of the other. They may not be able compromise enough in some cases, since their desires are so different.

Libra Moon likes peaceful surroundings, harmonious relationships and light chatter during social engagements. Scorpio Moon needs passion and intense experiences. They really dislike superficial bantering. Libra hates confrontation and conflict, while Scorpio may appear to seek it out. While Libra Moon wants fairness, Scorpio Moon wants revenge. Major adjustments will need to be made by both partners to make an equal, happy relationship.

Libra Moon is very tolerant and accepts people as they are. Scorpio Moon analyzes and becomes suspicious. Scorpio Moon may also be very controlling and manipulative in order to dominate the relationship. This can make Libra Moon very uncomfortable. They may end up pulling back without even realizing it at first. Both partners will really have to be committed to this relationship in order to make it beneficial to both partners. It is just very hard for Libra Moon to give Scorpio Moon what they need, and vice versa.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Libra Moon Compatibility with Sagittarius Moon

Libra Moon with Sagittarius Moon

Libra Moon and Sagittarius Moon have a very good chance at a long, loving relationship. Both partners are friendly, tolerant, outgoing, idealistic and think the best of people. Where they differ is in their needs.

Libra Moon needs more time with their partner than Sagittarius Moon may be willing to give. Sagittarius Moon has a strong independent streak, and they may find Libra a bit clingy. Together, they have a great time out with friends or having adventures. Libra may get hurt occasionally by Sagittarius' complete obliviousness to the feelings of others. Libra Moon won't ever say anything, however, in the interest of keeping everything conflict-free.

Libra Moon's diplomacy will keep the peace more often than not with Sagittarius Moon. When Sagittarius Moon goes off on one of their solitary adventures, Libra Moon may find themselves feeling abandoned and insecure. With these conflicts, both partners will need to make some concessions to be truly happy. If they are really attached to each other, they will make it work out to both their advantages. Their good times will far outweigh the bad, and Libra Moon will tolerate quite a bit in the name of diplomacy and tact.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Libra Moon Compatibility with Capricorn Moon

Libra Moon with Capricorn Moon

Libra Moon and Capricorn Moon may not be very likely partners. Unless one is willing to compromise, they may never find a meeting of the minds. With Libra's airy qualities and Capricorn's down to earth ethics, it is difficult for them to get along.

Libra Moon wants a loving relationship based on give and take, with each partner responding to the other's needs. Capricorn Moon is rather reserved and is focused on responsibility. They are willing to forego immediate gratification for the ultimate reward down the road. They are practical and will work hard to attain financial security for their family. Libra Moon will have a difficult time with Capricorn's aloofness and seriousness. Capricorn Moon will have a rough time by Libra's obsession with pleasure, lighthearted romantic notions and indecisiveness. They just find their own security in very different ways. Idealism doesn't always match practicality.

If they can make it work, Libra can teach Capricorn how to enjoy a break once in awhile, and Capricorn can teach Libra some independence. In most cases, however, they just can't satisfy each other's needs. They just don't have it in them to see eye to eye.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Libra Moon Compatibility with Aquarius Moon

Libra Moon with Aquarius Moon

Libra Moon and Aquarius Moon will get along terrifically. They share a lot of things in common and are able to understand each other easily. They can converse together endlessly and respect each other's ideas. They make great friends as well as lovers.

Both Libra Moon and Aquarius Moon love to socialize. They like to be a part of a group and like intellectual pursuits. While Libra is into appropriate behavior and diplomacy, Aquarius likes to stir the pot a bit and make a unique impression. Both may be a bit detached emotionally. Libra is a romantic; while Aquarius must have personal freedom to be happy. Each partner learns to appreciate the other's point of view. Both must be flexible and understanding.

Libra Moon may appear a little clingy to Aquarius Moon because they truly need a partner to feel complete. Aquarius Moon may appear uncaring as they put everyone else before their family. In all other areas they share so many things that these two small annoyances can easily be forgiven and overlooked by both partners. This pairing will ultimately make a very satisfying home for both members.

Their open communication helps them to succeed and overcome obstacles.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Libra Moon Compatibility with Pisces Moon

Libra Moon with Pisces Moon

Libra Moon and Pisces Moon share a lot of romance and desire, but they really don't have a lot more in common. If they are willing to work at their relationship, they may find that they each have just enough to fulfill the other. The relationship could also end up being so sweet that neither partner can stomach it.

Libra Moon is social, diplomatic, and likes everything to be in order. Pisces Moon is sensitive, intuitive and disorganized. Both like a peaceful environment without conflict. To make the most of this relationship, Libra must go into it with willing to see everything that goes on. Pisces must be very honest. If they don't do this, Libra will diplomatically dismiss things that Pisces does, and Pisces will subtly manipulate with their emotional scenes.

If they can bring a sense of moderation to the relationship, they may make it work. Pisces Moon has a tendency towards excess in all things, so this may be difficult. Pisces seems to prefer relationships where one partner gives to the other, while Libra wants it equal and balanced, with both partners in a give and take as needed.

Scorpio Moon Compatibility with Aries Moon

Scorpio Moon with Aries Moon

Scorpio Moon and Aries Moon may be compatible if both partners really work on pleasing each other. While passions run hot on both sides, this pairing often becomes a relationship where one partner is constantly making the effort to accommodate the other one.

Both Scorpio moon and Aries moon want to be in charge; Aries because they like to be the leader, and Scorpio because they like to control everything in their lives. Both partners are intense and powerful, though their individual differences are what can tear them apart. Aries prefers to surf along on the surface while Scorpio runs very deep. Aries likes to deal with issues with aggressive emotions while Scorpio will slink away silently, hiding their feelings and holding a grudge. This can be a very challenging pairing. While both are very emotional people, Aries lets their frustrations out and goes on. Scorpio, on the other hand, is complex, secretive and may become suspicious of everything their partner does.

Because of their passionate natures, Scorpio Moon and Aries Moon tend to be drawn to each other...but this is usually not a long lasting relationship due to the viciousness of their conflicts. If they can make it work, it will be a very passionate, emotional relationship.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Scorpio Moon Compatibility with Taurus Moon

Scorpio Moon with Taurus Moon

Scorpio Moon and Taurus Moon can be deliriously happy with each other; or they can absolutely detest each other. Unfortunately, one pair can experience both extremes. When things are going good, they are on top of the world. When they have problems, they feel no one else is experiencing anything worse.

Both partners in this relationship can be stubborn and inflexible. They both rely on their instincts. They are both deeply attracted to each other. Taurus Moon, however, will drive Scorpio Moon mad with their need for affection, desire for physical comforts and practicality. Scorpio Moon will drive Taurus Moon mad with their strong desire for sexual intensity, secrets and need for control through manipulation. They may find themselves in a pattern of separation and reconciliation over and over again. This can end up being a hurtful situation for both partners.

Taurus Moon will be much easier to please in this pairing. Scorpio Moon has deep feelings, and when hurt can be tremendously hostile. Scorpio is prone to feeling jealous, angry and guilty. Taurus understands none of this, even though they may be a bit possessive. Once they learn to deal with each other, however, the strong attraction that brought them close in the first place can create a very special bond.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Scorpio Moon Compatibility with Gemini Moon

Scorpio Moon with Gemini Moon

Scorpio Moon and Gemini Moon may or may not work out. The relationship is bound to become out of balance unless both partners are constantly working to keep it going smoothly. These two are not well matched and may have a lot of challenges to conquer.

Scorpio Moon and Gemini Moon are very different, emotionally. They may have difficulty appreciating the other or understanding where the other is coming from. Gemini has a light, superficial approach to relationships that truly upsets Scorpio, who feels passionate and intense. Likewise, Scorpio's outbursts, jealousy and manipulation to gain control over Gemini's need for freedom, socialization and variety will cause Gemini to run far away. Scorpio gets frustrated by Gemini's rationality and need for new experiences. While Gemini is attracted to Scorpio, it is more to gain the experience than to create a lifelong relationship.

Can two signs be more different than Scorpio and Gemini? Gemini Moon will feel threatened or uncomfortable by the intensity and will try to deflect this through humor, reason and finally avoidance. Gemini's need for socializing, variety and mental stimulation is totally foreign to Scorpio. Scorpio Moon intensely loves or hates everything they come across. They cannot be reasonable, detached or rational when it comes to personal issues. They often feel that Gemini just doesn't care. Scorpio is very private and may be unsociable sometimes. They can also be very demanding, but it is due to their need and ability to share deeply and to relish the closeness and intimacy that they crave. Gemini may not be capable of achieving this level.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Scorpio Moon Compatibility with Cancer Moon

Scorpio Moon with Cancer Moon

Scorpio Moon and Cancer Moon will share a great respect and understanding. They are a very well matched pair. Both partners will become deeply attached to each other. Passionate Scorpio and nurturing Cancer can plumb the emotional depths like no one else. Both partners are intuitive and sensitive to each others' needs and feelings. These two want a committed relationship. They may tend to lose objectivity and perspective about their relationship.

This pairing is almost a psychic bonding that nurtures them both and can transform them both spiritually and emotionally. Scorpio is happy to have Cancer totally dependent upon them, because secretly, Scorpio is equally as dependent upon Cancer. Their differences can be found, but they won't make much of a fuss between them. Scorpio is passionate and emotional, with strong hates and equally strong loves.

They react emotionally to people and situations. They reveal themselves to few, as they don't like to appear vulnerable. They can be vindictive when hurt. Cancer is soft, gentle and tender. While Scorpio's intensity can sometimes upset them, they are very sympathetic and understanding. They strive for a nurturing, peaceful atmosphere at home where they can all be happy.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Scorpio Moon Compatibility with Leo Moon

Scorpio Moon with Leo Moon

Scorpio Moon and Leo Moon will challenge each other greatly. One will need to make compromises to make the relationship work. This may lead to resentment. Both partners here need commitment and loyalty from each other. Neither one is into brief one night stands. They are each strong willed, inflexible and proud. They both need to feel they are in control.

Leo Moon always sees the bright side, while Scorpio Moon tends to dwell on the dark. Leo is direct, warm, humorous and outgoing; Scorpio is private, jealous, distrustful and deep. There is a lot for this pairing to overcome to create a successful relationship. If they are successful, they will be surrounded by great intensity and power. In order to do this, they need to let go of their fears of intimacy and reveal their true natures.

Scorpio Moon is more suspicious of what lies on the surface. They are always searching for the motives of others. Leo Moon accepts others on face value, and they may feel that Scorpio is stirring up trouble where it doesn't exist. As long as each person is willing to accept the differences in the other, this relationship may work out. If they have the drive to stick it out, they could have a very nice time together.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Scorpio Moon Compatibility with Virgo Moon

Scorpio Moon with Virgo Moon

Scorpio Moon and Virgo Moon are fairly well matched. They share many of the same opinions and have a strong respect for each other. They also have some fundamental differences that they will need to work with in order to remain together.

Virgo Moon is logical, yet may be overly critical of themselves and others. They cannot detach themselves easily when they should just let something go. They tend to be perfectionists. Scorpio Moon is emotional, analytical and intuitive. They love secrets, and have a need to get to the root of them. Both partners may over-analyze themselves and others. They both want to improve themselves, but through different methods. Both are loyal to the end. Emotions and sex may embarrass Virgo, while Scorpio needs that intensity to feel complete. They can be good for each other if they can get over their differences.

Scorpio Moon may hide their feelings of guilt or jealousy from Virgo. They can be manipulative in a subtle way, as they feel a need to be in control. Virgo Moon appears shy and restrained, and they may not know how to deal with the intensity of Scorpio's moods. Both can be sensitive to criticism in their own ways. With work and dedication, they may keep the relationship going.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Scorpio Moon Compatibility with Libra Moon

Scorpio Moon with Libra Moon

Scorpio Moon and Libra Moon may get along fine, especially if one partner is willing to put up with the eccentricities of the other. They may not be able compromise enough in some cases, since their desires are so different.

Libra Moon likes peaceful surroundings, harmonious relationships and light chatter during social engagements. Scorpio Moon needs passion and intense experiences. They really dislike superficial bantering. Libra hates confrontation and conflict, while Scorpio may appear to seek it out. While Libra Moon wants fairness, Scorpio Moon wants revenge. Major adjustments will need to be made by both partners to make an equal, happy relationship.

Libra Moon is very tolerant and accepts people as they are. Scorpio Moon analyzes and becomes suspicious. Scorpio Moon may also be very controlling and manipulative in order to dominate the relationship. This can make Libra Moon very uncomfortable. They may end up pulling back without even realizing it at first. Both partners will really have to be committed to this relationship in order to make it beneficial to both partners. It is just very hard for Libra Moon to give Scorpio Moon what they need, and vice versa.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Scorpio Moon Compatibility with Scorpio Moon

Scorpio Moon with Scorpio Moon

Scorpio Moon and Scorpio Moon magnifies all of their good traits, and all of their bad traits as well. If one gets suspicious of the other, it is twice as strong. They will be extremely intense, jealous and moody. This can be a lot of strain for a relationship to go through. The chances of a double Scorpio match succeeding are very low.

It is true that a double Scorpio Moon can make for a very passionate partnership, it is also extremely volatile. Both partners are so intensely emotional that it is exhausting. While both are extremely loyal and possessive, they are also suspicious and manipulative. They may look calm on the surface, but underneath they could be seething with hatred or suspicion. Each partner will want to be in control. If they do manage to make this pairing work, it could be very powerful and transformative for both of them.

Secretive and cautious, Scorpio Moon is very sensitive to betrayal, whether it is real or just imagined. They may be inclined to create drama to experience various emotional situations. Both partners will seek out challenging ways to experience more powerful feelings in their careers or hobbies. Those that don't find satisfaction that way will create their own situations at home with their partner.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Scorpio Moon Compatibility with Sagittarius Moon

Scorpio Moon with Sagittarius Moon

Scorpio Moon and Sagittarius Moon may have some conflicts. If one is willing to bend over backwards for the other, there may be some possibility for a long term relationship, but this may end up creating tension. They do share some understandings, but overall it may be difficult for them to keep it going.

Scorpio Moon is private, suspicious and passionate. They are loyal, emotional and possessive. Sagittarius Moon on the other hand, is social, upbeat and philosophical. They want a certain amount of freedom and independence. Disagreements are likely to arise from Scorpio's need to uncover secrets and Sagittarius' need to expand their experiences.

They are likely to inhibit both partners by their behavior. In order for either partner to feel safe and secure in the relationship, they will need to accommodate each other. Scorpio's jealousy may erupt into an emotional scene when Sagittarius is just being friendly and having fun. They have a hard time understanding why the other does what they do.

Chances are the relationship will not last too long if they are not able or willing to work on their problem areas. They are as different as night and day.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Scorpio Moon Compatibility with Capricorn Moon

Scorpio Moon with Capricorn Moon

Scorpio Moon and Capricorn Moon make the best of friends, and this can also turn into a nice romantic relationship as well. They can often have a long lasting relationship filled with respect and admiration. Both Scorpio and Capricorn are loyal and are capable of great depth of feeling. They are both rather private and dedicated. They both proceed with caution and are slow to trust.

Where they differ can either make the relationship interesting or problematic. Scorpio needs to experience intense emotions, and may actually manufacture drama in order to fill this need. Capricorn will place practical needs above all else.

Capricorn may seem emotionally detached compared to Scorpio's intensity. Capricorn can teach Scorpio how to focus on practical matters and Scorpio can help Capricorn feel more comfortable with their sensuality. If each partner focuses on the other, they can develop very strong bonds and enjoy a deep relationship. If Scorpio can curb the suspicion, Capricorn will respond better. Neither partner is capable of superficial feelings.

They can create a wonderful relationship if they can only get over the few differences they have. Both should learn how to communicate rather than keep secrets from each other.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Scorpio Moon Compatibility with Aquarius Moon

Scorpio Moon with Aquarius Moon

Scorpio Moon and Aquarius Moon will tend to grate on each other unless they fill their relationship with compromises. Both partners are fixed in their ways and are very different emotionally. Neither one is known for changing themselves in order to make accommodations for their partner.

This is a relationship that probably won't last long. Scorpio Moon is private and desires emotional intimacy. They can get very possessive and suspicious; on the flip side, Aquarius Moon is very social. They need to be involved with groups of people and focus on the future. They want someone who is intellectual like themselves with whom they can have enlightening conversations. They want freedom and don't want anyone controlling them; whereby Scorpio desires to control their partner, and may use manipulation to get what they want.

What is wrong with this picture? It is not a picture of a healthy relationship. Aquarius' need for intellectual stimulation may take them to groups who share a common interest. This may make Scorpio Moon jealous and in their need to control their partner, Scorpio may do anything to manipulate the situation so Aquarius Moons must be with them.

Even with a lot of work on the part of both partners, they may never see eye to eye. This relationship is often better off if both parties cut their losses and find other partners.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Scorpio Moon Compatibility with Pisces Moon

Scorpio Moon with Pisces Moon

Scorpio Moon and Pisces Moon are made for each other. They understand each other well and respect their differences. They work together well and will likely have an emotional, long lasting relationship.

Both Scorpio Moon and Pisces Moon are capable of moody behavior. They are intuitive and emotional. They can, in some cases, develop a psychic bond. Their shared sensitivity helps them meet the other's needs. Scorpio needs intense emotions. They may find this in love, anger, fear, loyalty, sex, revenge or obsession. Pisces wants harmony and to avoid conflict, whereas Scorpio loves conflict. This may cause upset if not openly discussed.

Both are great manipulators and their secrets and emotional intimacy will bind these two together deeply. Pisces Moon is very forgiving and tolerant, while Scorpio Moon longs to retaliate. It isn't too difficult for these two to work through their differences though. They share the most important part for both of them: the emotional intimacy.

They may share an interest in the occult or other secrets. This also gives them a sense of belonging to each other.

Sagittarius Moon Compatibility with Aries Moon

Sagittarius Moon with Aries Moon

Sagittarius Moon and Aries Moon get along perfectly well. They both like adventures and excitement. They are both full of enthusiasm and energy. Emotionally, these two are very compatible. Freedom is important to both of them. They will be a playful, stimulating pair.

Both Sagittarius and Aries are rather blunt. They make a pairing that is optimistic, courageous and invigorating. Neediness and dependency makes both of them very uncomfortable. They prefer to be spontaneous when they get emotional. Their differences will show in how they react to emotion. Sagittarius prefers to use their intellect to understand their feelings. They like to file things away in mental boxes as being either positive or negative. Aries, on the other hand, may get tired of being told how they should feel at any given time. Luckily, Sagittarius' sense of humor often rescues the situation.

On the good side, because of the high level of compatibility between Aries Moon and Sagittarius Moon, they respect each other and their needs. They are honest with each other and have no need to be manipulative. These two will be able to make a relationship work very well with little effort.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Sagittarius Moon Compatibility with Taurus Moon

Sagittarius Moon with Taurus Moon

Sagittarius Moon and Taurus Moon are an unlikely pairing. One partner may feel a deep need to accommodate the other for some reason they may not fully understand. This can make for an imbalanced relationship. They are complete opposites. They are in conflict more often than not.

Taurus Moon wants stability and familiarity. Sagittarius Moon wants to be involved with change, and prefers to stay in the middle of the action. Taurus wants harmony and comfort, while Sagittarius wants adventure and new experiences. While they can both be very generous to the other, this is often not enough to create a good relationship. Finances may create more challenges for this pair as Sagittarius sees spending as a way to enjoy themselves while Taurus sees it as excessive and risky.

Sagittarius' idealism for the future is often at odds with Taurus' concern for the immediate present. Sagittarius will feel misunderstood, while Taurus feels Sagittarius is impractical and lives in a fantasy world of their own creation.

If they can make the giant leap and overcome their differences, Taurus Moon and Sagittarius Moon may make a go of it and have a great relationship based on freedom and generosity.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Sagittarius Moon Compatibility with Gemini Moon

Sagittarius Moon with Gemini Moon

Sagittarius Moon and Gemini Moon are opposites on the zodiac, and they can get along extremely well... or not, if times are bad. They can be the most impressive couple around when things are good. They can make things work out very well with a little bit of effort.

Both Sagittarius and Gemini love freedom and excitement. They share a playful manner and have a great sense of humor. They are both very curious and love to travel and learn new things. It would probably be easier to list what these two don't have in common! This pairing can result in a rousing success. Gemini helps fuel Sagittarius' passion, and Sagittarius keeps Gemini interested in romance. They are always off on some new adventure.

They have few differences. Sagittarius Moon may be more idealistic and philosophical than Gemini, but Gemini Moon has a knack for dark humor that Sagittarius just doesn't quite get. They make admirable companions, however, and even without the romance they would enjoy a long, fruitful friendship. With romance added, it just adds a new dimension to their relationship. When things are going badly, they can tend to grind on each other a bit, but with some effort, this can be overcome.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Sagittarius Moon Compatibility with Cancer Moon

Sagittarius Moon with Cancer Moon

Sagittarius Moon and Cancer Moon have little natural compatibility, though if they are dedicated and willing to work on their relationship, it could work out. Their biggest problem is they want different things. Each person in this relationship has an entirely different approach to life.

Cancer Moon is cautious, wants security and strong roots. Sagittarius Moon is enthusiastic, optimistic and wants to be free to follow the wind. Cancer is supportive, nurturing and sympathetic; Sagittarius is frank, tactless and a bit superficial. Cancer prefers the familiar, routine and family commitments. Sagittarius wants new experiences, adventures and is willing to pick up and move to someplace new at a moment's notice.

There may be problems over extravagant spending and lack of planning financially. Sagittarius' impatience with Cancer's sentimentality and nostalgia can make for some uncomfortable scenes. They may try to reason Cancer's moodiness away or ignore it completely, leaving Cancer feeling misunderstood and alone. Cancer's fascination with the past is equaled only by Sagittarius' fascination with the future. They may feel dragged down by Cancer's neediness and emotions. They don't take things personally like Cancer, and they end up hurting Cancer's feelings without realizing it. They may frustrate themselves by trying to inhibit their own self-expression to accommodate Cancer. Cancer can learn and benefit from Sagittarius' optimism and humor, and Sagittarius can learn to accept feelings on a deeper level thanks to Cancer.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Sagittarius Moon Compatibility with Leo Moon

Sagittarius Moon with Leo Moon

Sagittarius Moon and Leo Moon make a happy couple. They have a great amount of understanding on how the other one ticks. Friendly, generous and optimistic, these two play very well together. They will have a great time going out together, playing games, and living free.

Leo Moon is very loyal, and they want to know that they have Sagittarius' full attention. They also need to feel appreciated to be happy. Sagittarius Moon needs to feel the winds of freedom, both emotionally and at home. They may be rather tactless, which may hurt Leo's pride. Leo takes everything very personally. If they can overcome these small issues, they can have a very fulfilling life together. They may be very lucky when they are together, and they will prosper almost effortlessly in the eyes of others.

These two are great fun to be around. They suit each other to a T the majority of the time. You may find them traveling the world, clubbing, and enjoying all manners of sport. Enterprising and cheerful, these two will certainly light up any room they walk into.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Sagittarius Moon Compatibility with Virgo Moon

Sagittarius Moon with Virgo Moon

Sagittarius Moon and Virgo Moon may or may not get along. They will have many challenges to face and one will need to make compromises to make things work out. They both approach the world from different viewpoints that may make it difficult for them to connect deeply.

Practical Virgo will have their hands full with adventurous Sagittarius. Their biggest challenge is to learn that they really aren't that different... they just see things differently. If they can manage to put themselves in each others shoes once in awhile, it will really help smooth out their relationship.

The smaller challenges will deal with practical matters. Virgo Moon will want to set a little aside for a rainy day, while Sagittarius will point out that the sky is cloudy now, so why not spend? Virgo wants everything organized and planned; Sagittarius doesn't like anything that gets in the way of their freedom and spontaneity. While the initial attraction is strong, it may prove too difficult to make it last. This will be especially true if each partner tries to convert the other over to their own way of doing things.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Sagittarius Moon Compatibility with Libra Moon

Sagittarius Moon with Libra Moon

Sagittarius Moon and Libra Moon have a very good chance at a long, loving relationship. Both partners are friendly, tolerant, outgoing, idealistic and think the best of people. Where they differ is in their needs.

Libra Moon needs more time with their partner than Sagittarius Moon may be willing to give. Sagittarius Moon has a strong independent streak, and they may find Libra a bit clingy. Together, they have a great time out with friends or having adventures. Libra may get hurt occasionally by Sagittarius' complete obliviousness to the feelings of others. Libra Moon won't ever say anything, however, in the interest of keeping everything conflict-free.

Libra Moon's diplomacy will keep the peace more often than not with Sagittarius Moon. When Sagittarius Moon goes off on one of their solitary adventures, Libra Moon may find themselves feeling abandoned and insecure. With these conflicts, both partners will need to make some concessions to be truly happy. If they are really attached to each other, they will make it work out to both their advantages. Their good times will far outweigh the bad, and Libra Moon will tolerate quite a bit in the name of diplomacy and tact.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Sagittarius Moon Compatibility with Scorpio Moon

Sagittarius Moon with Scorpio Moon

Sagittarius Moon and Scorpio Moon may have some conflicts. If one is willing to bend over backwards for the other, there may be some possibility for a long term relationship, but this may end up creating tension. They do share some understandings, but overall it may be difficult for them to keep it going.

Scorpio Moon is private, suspicious and passionate. They are loyal, emotional and possessive. Sagittarius Moon on the other hand, is social, upbeat and philosophical. They want a certain amount of freedom and independence. Disagreements are likely to arise from Scorpio's need to uncover secrets and Sagittarius' need to expand their experiences.

They are likely to inhibit both partners by their behavior. In order for either partner to feel safe and secure in the relationship, they will need to accommodate each other. Scorpio's jealousy may erupt into an emotional scene when Sagittarius is just being friendly and having fun. They have a hard time understanding why the other does what they do.

Chances are the relationship will not last too long if they are not able or willing to work on their problem areas. They are as different as night and day.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Sagittarius Moon Compatibility with Sagittarius Moon

Sagittarius Moon with Sagittarius Moon

Sagittarius Moon doubled will have a common understanding with each other. They will find they feel the same way about most things, but this relationship could still be on the rocks. Sagittarius is known for their carefree attitude and need for freedom. Two of them together may not put the effort into the relationship that is needed to help make it last. Negative feelings will be magnified with this pairing as well.

A double Sagittarius Moon can have a lot of fun together. They are both playful and fun loving. They have a terrific sense of humor and love to go out on the town. Travel is second nature to them. They love long intellectual conversations and have a philosophical outlook on life. They both want to expand their horizons through a wide variety of experiences. They know that each of them needs freedom and space for adventures. Sounds like a match made in heaven, doesn't it? Unfortunately these free spirits may get so wrapped up in their adventures that they take the other for granted.

They may distance themselves emotionally from traumatic and emotional situations, so they don't have to deal with them. This may cause a state of denial that may end up disrupting the entire relationship unless it is dealt with. They really don't want to deal with negative experiences, and this can build up in an unhealthy way.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Sagittarius Moon Compatibility with Capricorn Moon

Sagittarius Moon with Capricorn Moon

Sagittarius Moon and Capricorn Moon may as well be from two different planets. Sagittarius is friendly, loves adventure and is enthusiastic, while Capricorn is cautious, hardworking and a homebody. There is a large amount of conflicts to overcome if this pairing is to work out.

Sagittarius Moon can't see the realism that Capricorn is a part of. Capricorn's dedication to hard work and creating a secure foundation is completely alien to Sagittarius. Capricorn Moon wants dedication and commitment; Sagittarius Moon wants freedom to follow their dreams. Capricorn chooses duty and responsibility over pleasure; Sagittarius chooses the opposite. Enthusiastic Sagittarius has problems with Capricorn's self doubts and feelings of doom and gloom. In order to make this relationship work, both partners would have to be willing to make drastic changes in how they approach the world. If they can pull it together, Sagittarius can help Capricorn learn to lighten up and enjoy themselves. Capricorn can help ground Sagittarius and add a little reality to their impracticality.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Sagittarius Moon Compatibility with Aquarius Moon

Sagittarius Moon with Aquarius Moon

Sagittarius Moon and Aquarius Moon are highly compatible. They have a solid relationship built on friendship and loyalty. They share common interests in family and adventure. In their case, their differences serve to keep them interested in each other.

Both Sagittarius Moon and Aquarius Moon share an interest in new experiences, adventure and independence. They both adapt easily as needed. They both love to socialize and join groups. They work well together and bring out the best in each other. These two will not care who leaves their socks on the floor or who didn't empty the dishwasher. Their emotional lives are in harmony with each other. While neither one is especially domestic, they manage to get by. They both love contemporary solutions and modern conveniences.

Idealism will rule the household. Some may think the relationship isn't based very deep, and they may be right. Aquarius Moon and Sagittarius Moon live on the surface. They may not appear as warm or intimate as others may be. Neither partner really likes to stay home, so this pair may spend their time traveling or moving from place to place. They don't feel the need to set down deep roots.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Sagittarius Moon Compatibility with Pisces Moon

Sagittarius Moon with Pisces Moon

Sagittarius Moon and Pisces Moon will need to make some compromises to work out their relationship. They are not very well matched. Sagittarius' enthusiasm can be overwhelming for Pisces.

These two do have several things in common. They both tend to make promises they have no way of keeping, they are both generous and have no idea of what boundaries are in relationships, and they both may develop keen intuition. Sagittarius Moon is a bit blunt and overbearing for the sensitive Pisces. Sagittarius doesn't even realize that their bluntness can hurt the feelings of others. Pisces Moon is shy and would rather stay at home than go out to a loud party.

They do tend to attract each other, however. The optimism that is natural to Sagittarius powers up Pisces imagination. It is hard for them to make anything long lasting from this relationship, though, due to their incompatibilities. Both partners tend to be on the dreamy side, and may have a hard time getting anything accomplished. Tender Pisces isn't cut out for the brash, adventurous world of Sagittarius. Sagittarius can be very insensitive, especially when they are caught up in their enthusiastic plans for their next adventure. To make this relationship work, both partners would have to be willing to make definite changes and be willing to stick to them.

Capricorn Moon Compatibility with Aries Moon

Capricorn Moon with Aries Moon

Capricorn Moon and Aries Moon will have a challenging time of it. If the relationship is to work, one will inevitably end up compromising at their own expense. They do stand a chance...this pairing is somewhat compatible. Both partners will do whatever they need to make it work.

They do have many differences to overcome, however. Aries Moon is enthusiastic, direct and spontaneous while Capricorn Moon is careful, controlled and reserved. They are both rather self-centered, which may add to their challenges. Aries wants everything at that moment while Capricorn is willing to wait and earn what they want slowly through organization and strategy. Capricorn also has a problem with self-confidence. This can upset Aries to no end.

On the good side, Capricorn helps Aries create distance from irritations. In turn, Aries can help Capricorn enjoy more spontaneity in their life. Both are able to be self-sufficient emotionally and enjoy time alone. When attraction appears in this pairing, it normally runs its course and life goes on. If this relationship is to truly work, both partners will need to cooperate and work with each other to develop a give and take. This will help this pairing survive.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Capricorn Moon Compatibility with Taurus Moon

Capricorn Moon with Taurus Moon

Capricorn Moon and Taurus Moon are a good match. They will have a tremendous respect and understanding for each other. They have a lot of things in common. Both Capricorn and Taurus need money and material possessions to make them feel secure and comfortable. They both like routine and order. Both partners will prove dependable and responsible.

They do have a few differences they may need to work through. Taurus Moon is very laid back and easy going. It takes some real motivation to get them moving. They also like to mosey along so they can enjoy the scenery. Capricorn Moon needs to be actively working to be happy. They want to get everything done yesterday, and they need to feel in control. While Taurus likes instant gratification, Capricorn is willing to wait for it, knowing how good it will be. Capricorn Moon may think Taurus will never grow up. Taurus Moon may think Capricorn is obsessed with proving their worth.

Taurus Moon does appreciate Capricorn's stability and steadiness. Capricorn Moon appreciates Taurus' creativity ending up in practical usage. Taurus Moon can help Capricorn learn to enjoy the fruits of their labor and to show affection. Capricorn Moon can help Taurus find motivation and ambition to bring their ideas to reality. Overall, they are a solid match that should do well together.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Capricorn Moon Compatibility with Gemini Moon

Capricorn Moon with Gemini Moon

Capricorn Moon and Gemini Moon will need to work to make this relationship successful. They may feel there is a karmic tie between them. This pairing can easily get unbalanced, so care must be taken that one person is not taken advantage of more often than the other. They do not have a whole lot in common when it comes to their approaches in life.

Gemini and Capricorn may have difficulty communicating with each other. This will lead to frustration and misunderstandings. Gemini Moon is restless, open minded, and hardly ever finishes what they begin. Capricorn Moon is serious, conscientious and disciplined. They need to set goals and achieve them. While each fills a need in the other, the communication problems may be too much for some to overcome.

On the good days, this pairing complements each other perfectly. Gemini can prevent Capricorn from overworking and teach them how to have fun. Capricorn may be able to teach Gemini some responsibility and discipline. Capricorn Moon always ends up being the adult, while Gemini Moon plays and has fun. This can become a bone for contention between them.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Capricorn Moon Compatibility with Cancer Moon

Capricorn Moon with Cancer Moon

Capricorn Moon and Cancer Moon can work out very well together. They are either the best of pals or arguing, there never seems to be an in between. They differ in how they understand the world, but if they can work together, this can be a very good match.

Cancer Moon is caring, emotional and moody while Capricorn Moon is uncomfortable with feelings and emotions. Cancer wants to be close and nurturing; Capricorn prefers to keep a bit of a distance to the point that they will put off their own needs in favor of work and responsibilities. Both partners are hardworking, patient and responsible. Capricorn may have difficulty being there for Cancer emotionally even if they are there physically.

Both partners are very committed and loyal, and it is here that they can truly connect. Cancer can help Capricorn understand that they need tenderness and love as much as anyone else. While Capricorn hates others being too dependent, they learn to appreciate Cancer's softness and nurturing. Cancer can get a lot from Capricorn's strength and emotional stability in a relationship.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Capricorn Moon Compatibility with Leo Moon

Capricorn Moon with Leo Moon

Capricorn Moon and Leo Moon may be happy together, but usually one partner ends up constantly trying to please the other. In most cases, Leo Moon won't appreciate the directness of Capricorn, and Capricorn Moon won't appreciate the generosity of Leo.

These two are opposites. Leo Moon wants to make the dramatic gesture and attract attention; Capricorn Moon is more serious, subdued and controlled. Leo Moon may be playful and a bit lazy; Capricorn Moon is responsible and hardworking. Leo Moon shows love through romantic gestures and expects praise. Capricorn Moon shows love through practical gifts like making a meal or taking the car into the shop. Both Capricorn and Leo will tend to feel inhibited and overwhelmed by the other.

Their differences will stand out, causing them to constantly create unhappiness in their partner unless they can learn to accommodate the other. This is a very difficult pairing to make work. The detachment of Capricorn Moon will drive Leo Moon to distraction. They will never feel the center of attention while the detachment is there. Leo's need for praise and attention tends to make Capricorn pull out their hair. Chances are both partners will feel it is time to cut their losses and move on at some point in this relationship.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Capricorn Moon Compatibility with Virgo Moon

Capricorn Moon with Virgo Moon

Capricorn Moon and Virgo Moon are the best of friends the moment they meet. They can't believe their luck in finding someone who shares so many things in common. They are highly compatible, and this relationship should work out well for all concerned.

Both Capricorn Moon and Virgo Moon are organized and practical. They both work hard and want to be useful. Both are willing to forego their own desires and feelings in lieu of responsibilities. They are self-disciplined and meticulous. They are faithful, constant and don't like risks. They will happily tread the safe, logical path to financial security. Together they can have a very powerful connection. Others may view them as boring, but they feel secure and happy. They need to make sure they don't expect too much of themselves. With their self-critical tendencies, they can undermine their own work.

They do need to be wary of overwork. All work and no play will make even Capricorn Moon and Virgo Moon dull. If they can learn to relax and enjoy themselves as well as maintain their responsibilities, they will be extremely happy.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Capricorn Moon Compatibility with Libra Moon

Capricorn Moon with Libra Moon

Capricorn Moon and Libra Moon may not be very likely partners. Unless one is willing to compromise, they may never find a meeting of the minds. With Libra's airy qualities and Capricorn's down to earth ethics, it is difficult for them to get along.

Libra Moon wants a loving relationship based on give and take, with each partner responding to the other's needs. Capricorn Moon is rather reserved and is focused on responsibility. They are willing to forego immediate gratification for the ultimate reward down the road. They are practical and will work hard to attain financial security for their family. Libra Moon will have a difficult time with Capricorn's aloofness and seriousness. Capricorn Moon will have a rough time by Libra's obsession with pleasure, lighthearted romantic notions and indecisiveness. They just find their own security in very different ways. Idealism doesn't always match practicality.

If they can make it work, Libra can teach Capricorn how to enjoy a break once in awhile, and Capricorn can teach Libra some independence. In most cases, however, they just can't satisfy each others' needs. They just don't have it in them to see eye to eye.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Capricorn Moon Compatibility with Scorpio Moon

Capricorn Moon with Scorpio Moon

Capricorn Moon and Scorpio Moon make the best of friends, and this can also turn into a nice romantic relationship as well. They can often have a long lasting relationship filled with respect and admiration. Both Capricorn and Scorpio are loyal and are capable of great depth of feeling. They are both rather private and dedicated. They both proceed with caution and are slow to trust.

Where they differ can either make the relationship interesting or problematic. Scorpio needs to experience intense emotions, and may actually manufacture drama in order to fill this need. Capricorn will place practical needs above all else.

Capricorn may seem emotionally detached compared to Scorpio's intensity. Capricorn can teach Scorpio how to focus on practical matters and Scorpio can help Capricorn feel more comfortable with their sensuality. If each partner focuses on the other, they can develop very strong bonds and enjoy a deep relationship. If Scorpio can curb the suspicion, Capricorn will respond better. Neither partner is capable of superficial feelings.

They can create a wonderful relationship if they can only get over the few differences they have. Both should learn how to communicate rather than keep secrets from each other.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Capricorn Moon Compatibility with Sagittarius Moon

Capricorn Moon with Sagittarius Moon

Capricorn Moon and Sagittarius Moon may as well be from two different planets. Sagittarius is friendly, loves adventure and is enthusiastic, while Capricorn is cautious, hardworking and a homebody. There is a large amount of conflicts to overcome if this pairing is to work out.

Sagittarius Moon can't see the realism that Capricorn is a part of. Capricorn's dedication to hard work and creating a secure foundation is completely alien to Sagittarius. Capricorn Moon wants dedication and commitment; Sagittarius Moon wants freedom to follow their dreams. Capricorn chooses duty and responsibility over pleasure; Sagittarius chooses the opposite. Enthusiastic Sagittarius has problems with Capricorn's self doubts and feelings of doom and gloom. In order to make this relationship work, both partners would have to be willing to make drastic changes in how they approach the world. If they can pull it together, Sagittarius can help Capricorn learn to lighten up and enjoy themselves. Capricorn can help ground Sagittarius and add a little reality to their impracticality.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Capricorn Moon Compatibility with Capricorn Moon

Capricorn Moon with Capricorn Moon

When Capricorn Moon is paired with Capricorn Moon, they are actually fairly compatible. Their strengths work well together, and they can build a comfortable home together through their hard work. They should try to avoid being negative at the same time, since this can cause havoc with the relationship.

Capricorn Moon is realistic. At times they may become cynical or pessimistic. When both become this way, life can be miserable. They drive themselves hard to create financial security for their family. While emotionally reserved, this sign can be very sensual. They prefer committed relationships, but find it very easy to neglect their home life due to overwork. When both partners end up doing this, their family can suffer.

Capricorn Moon doubled not only understands each other, but unfortunately they can reinforce each other's bad habits. They find it hard to show vulnerability or neediness. They show their love by doing practical things like paying bills or doing the laundry. They may find it challenging to deal with children who are more emotionally needy than themselves. Self control and emotional caution are very important to Capricorns. If they can learn to laugh and trust others, it will result in a happier union overall.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Capricorn Moon Compatibility with Aquarius Moon

Capricorn Moon with Aquarius Moon

Capricorn Moon and Aquarius Moon have a good chance of having a successful relationship. This chance increases if one partner is willing to be more tolerant of the other. They often have different dreams and desires, but if they are both willing to make it work, it can be done.

Capricorn Moon is serious and may be rather cynical. They don't show their emotions and would rather not show any vulnerability either. Aquarius Moon is exuberant, optimistic and sociable. They intellectualize their feelings and are often unaware of their own emotional needs, let alone those of their partner.

They both want to succeed, though they have different goals. Capricorn wants to attain advancement and security, while Aquarius wants to change the world. Capricorn enjoys a traditional relationship and takes their responsibilities seriously. Aquarius resists the traditional and wants to try new things. Both partners are likely to feel inhibited when together. Capricorn feels a need to set boundaries while Aquarius can't help but try to break through them. They will have to work hard to overcome these differences.

Both partners may have difficulties when it comes to letting their emotions out. This can lead to a lot of resentment or hurt feelings because the other just doesn't understand what is wrong. When they do make this relationship work, it can be pretty good, however. If they feel inclined to work at it, they can complement each other nicely.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Capricorn Moon Compatibility with Pisces Moon

Capricorn Moon with Pisces Moon

Capricorn Moon and Pisces Moon are about as different as they come. They can be loyal friends, but they approach the world in such different ways that it is hard for them to come together as a couple. While Capricorn is detached emotionally, Pisces is raw emotion, open to any influences that may be nearby.

Capricorn is responsible and hard working. They are focused and loyal. Pisces is irresponsible, dreamy and unorganized. They are passive and moody. Pisces Moon has an idealistic approach to relationships, while Capricorn Moon wants a firm commitment. Pisces can be clingy, which Capricorn may find extremely annoying.

In rare instances, these two can be compatible if they can work out their differences. In these cases, they are able to be complementary to each other. Capricorn can take care of the outside world, while Pisces learns some responsibility and takes care of the home front. Capricorn can teach Pisces how to make the most of their creativity, while Pisces can teach Capricorn how to release their emotions. When this pairing works, it goes to show that with enough love and determination, any couple has the potential to work.

Aquarius Moon compatibility with Aries Moon

Aquarius Moon with Aries Moon

Aquarius Moon and Aries Moon will have a relationship based on loyalty and friendship. They are compatible and often have a strong tie between them despite the challenges that arise. This is a marriage of logic and passion. Both partners love new experiences and opportunities. They both love their independence and they both tend to be restless. They do have a lot in common.

Aquarius and Aries also have a lot of differences. Aries Moon reacts to feelings, while Aquarius Moon reacts to logical argument. Neither one likes to compromise. When Aries gets upset or impatient, Aquarius can drive them crazy with their cool logic.

Aries Moon can be somewhat dominating in the relationship, but Aquarius Moon will not accept this and will demand equality. If they can work together and pair up Aries' need for action with Aquarius' need for change, they can be very happy together. They have no problem letting go of the past, so it is possible for them to work past any disagreements and go on. If worse comes to worst, they can both easily make use of counseling to deal with their issues. They may have difficulty keeping secrets.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Aquarius Moon Compatibility with Taurus Moon

Aquarius Moon with Taurus Moon

Aquarius Moon and Taurus Moon will have a hard road ahead of them. While they do have some compatibility, one will need to make compromises to overcome the irritation they feel with each other. It is a rare thing for this pairing to work.

Taurus Moon loves their security, material comforts, routines and tranquility. Aquarius Moon wants excitement, freedom, mental stimulation and social interaction. Taurus prefers to use time-honored methods that produce predictable results. Aquarius wants to try the latest gadgets, new ideas and innovate even better ways to do things. Taurus lives in the present while Aquarius lives for the future. This is a classic case of tradition versus change. Both partners are very opinionated, which is one of the few traits they share.

Aquarius Moon and Taurus Moon may have a very strong attraction to one another, but it may be more than they can both endure to make it last any longer than it has to. They may end up with an on again, off again relationship. If they can open up to each other and share, they may both learn a lot that will enrich each of their lives a great deal.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Aquarius Moon Compatibility with Gemini Moon

Aquarius Moon with Gemini Moon

Aquarius Moon and Gemini Moon get along famously. They have a great deal of understanding and respect for each other. They have similar motivations and desires, which makes this couple almost ideal. They can be the best of friends, share a light romance, or a wonderful domestic partnership.

Aquarius Moon and Gemini Moon both like change, lots of socializing and freedom. Gemini needs variety, and Aquarius is unpredictable and novel. They share a nice wit, a sense of humor, and they love to talk. They can share and grow ideas in a lively manner. The fact that they can have a meeting of the minds means a lot to them.

They can both be a bit detached and unemotional. This won't bother either one of them. They are more likely to discuss and analyze emotions than express them. They understand each other very well, and are happy to keep things informal. Both partners are interested in humanitarian causes and are interested in improving the future.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Aquarius Moon Compatibility with Cancer Moon

Aquarius Moon with Cancer Moon

Aquarius Moon and Cancer Moon have a lot of differences to overcome. This relationship can easily become unbalanced unless a lot of care is taken. They both come at life from different directions, and understand things very differently.

Aquarius Moon and Cancer Moon both have a lot of concern for others, but Cancer approaches this from a personal level while Aquarius is more concerned with mankind as a whole. Cancer Moon wants a home and family. They want to be safe and secure. Aquarius Moon wants change, new ideas and won't hesitate to put social issues ahead of family. Cancer wants commitment, Aquarius wants freedom. Cancer relies on instinct and emotions while Aquarius is not in touch with personal feelings, they are far more objective.

Aquarius Moon's ability to put family last will hurt Cancer more often than not. They don't hold the same ideals, and Aquarius will suddenly make a radical change without consulting Cancer, throwing them into chaos. Cancer feels very insecure in these situations and when Aquarius asserts their need for independence. If Aquarius can learn to be sensitive to Cancer's attachments and feelings, they may learn to move a bit more slowly. Cancer can help Aquarius become more involved with their own feelings, while Aquarius can help Cancer gain perspective and clarity. They can be quite complementary if they can work out their differences.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Aquarius Moon Compatibility with Leo Moon

Aquarius Moon with Leo Moon

Aquarius Moon and Leo Moon can have an incredible relationship, or they could fight over just about everything. If they make sure that they are both on the same page, they should be a good match. Once they make the effort to understand the other's point of view, they should be able to work together.

Leo Moon likes groups as long as the group is focused on them. Aquarius Moon needs a group, yet wants to stand out. Leo loves to be the adored head of a traditional family while Aquarius wants change, new things and wants to dedicate their lives to helping mankind. Leo lives in the present and wants to spend their time enjoying it. Aquarius lives for the future. Leo will probably be annoyed by Aquarius' ability to place family after their causes.

If they can learn from each other, Aquarius will be able to learn to appreciate closeness and intimacy while Leo can learn the value of free will. Their individual choices will challenge the other. It may be difficult for them to find a domestic routine. Leo Moon can get their feelings hurt when Aquarius treats them just like everyone else instead of the special being Leo knows they are. Aquarius can resent the authority that Leo exudes. This relationship will need a lot of work from both partners to find a happy balance.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Aquarius Moon Compatibility with Virgo Moon

Aquarius Moon with Virgo Moon

Aquarius Moon and Virgo Moon may try too hard to please each other, creating an imbalance in the relationship. They have different ways of looking at the world, which may present them with a few challenges.

One of the biggest challenges they will face is the fact that Virgo Moon is practical, while Aquarius Moon thinks mostly of humanity as a whole instead of their close relationships. While Aquarius' visionary ideals may take them far afield, Virgo tends to hold down the fort.

While Virgo Moon wants a traditional home and family, Aquarius will find it easy to push them to second place. They appreciate Virgo's loyalty, but they are called to bigger things. Virgo is most happy when following a tried and true method for success, while Aquarius is more likely to try new things and experiment. Both partners can easily lose themselves in their interest of the moment.

They may both become out of touch with their own feelings and emotions. Virgo Moon may turn their criticism on themselves, blaming themselves for Aquarius' willingness to push their family life aside. On the good side, both partners can learn to expand their horizons a bit if they can understand each others perspectives a bit more.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Aquarius Moon Compatibility with Libra Moon

Aquarius Moon with Libra Moon

Aquarius Moon and Libra Moon will get along terrifically. They share a lot of things in common and are able to understand each other easily. They can converse together endlessly and respect each other's ideas. They make great friends as well as lovers.

Both Aquarius Moon and Libra Moon love to socialize. They like to be a part of a group and like intellectual pursuits. While Libra is into appropriate behavior and diplomacy, Aquarius likes to stir the pot a bit and make a unique impression. Both may be a bit detached emotionally. Libra is a romantic; while Aquarius must have personal freedom to be happy. Each partner learns to appreciate the other's point of view. Both must be flexible and understanding.

Libra Moon may appear a little clingy to Aquarius Moon because they truly need a partner to feel complete. Aquarius Moon may appear uncaring as they put everyone else before their family. In all other areas they share so many things that these two small annoyances can easily be forgiven and overlooked by both partners. This pairing will ultimately make a very satisfying home for both members. Their open communication helps them to succeed and overcome obstacles.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Aquarius Moon Compatibility with Scorpio Moon

Aquarius Moon with Scorpio Moon

Aquarius Moon and Scorpio Moon will tend to grate on each other unless they fill their relationship with compromises. Both partners are fixed in their ways and are very different emotionally. Neither one is known for changing themselves in order to make accommodations for their partner.

This is a relationship that probably won't last long. Scorpio Moon is private and desires emotional intimacy. They can get very possessive and suspicious; on the flip side, Aquarius Moon is very social. They need to be involved with groups of people and focus on the future. They want someone who is intellectual like themselves with whom they can have enlightening conversations. They want freedom and don't want anyone controlling them; whereby Scorpio desires to control their partner, and may use manipulation to get what they want.

What is wrong with this picture? It is not a picture of a healthy relationship. Aquarius' need for intellectual stimulation may take them to groups who share a common interest. This may make Scorpio Moon jealous and in their need to control their partner, Scorpio may do anything to manipulate the situation so Aquarius Moons must be with them.

Even with a lot of work on the part of both partners, they may never see eye to eye. This relationship is often better off if both parties cut their losses and find other partners.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Aquarius Moon Compatibility with Sagittarius Moon

Aquarius Moon with Sagittarius Moon

Aquarius Moon and Sagittarius Moon are highly compatible. They have a solid relationship built on friendship and loyalty. They share common interests in family and adventure. In their case, their differences serve to keep them interested in each other.

Both Aquarius Moon and Sagittarius Moon share an interest in new experiences, adventure and independence. They both adapt easily as needed. They both love to socialize and join groups. They work well together and bring out the best in each other. These two will not care who leaves their socks on the floor or who didn't empty the dishwasher. Their emotional lives are in harmony with each other. While neither one is especially domestic, they manage to get by. They both love contemporary solutions and modern conveniences.

Idealism will rule the household. Some may think the relationship isn't based very deep, and they may be right. Aquarius Moon and Sagittarius Moon live on the surface. They may not appear as warm or intimate as others may be. Neither partner really likes to stay home, so this pair may spend their time traveling or moving from place to place. They don't feel the need to set down deep roots.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Aquarius Moon Compatibility with Capricorn Moon

Aquarius Moon with Capricorn Moon

Aquarius Moon and Capricorn Moon have a good chance of having a successful relationship. This chance increases if one partner is willing to be more tolerant of the other. They often have different dreams and desires, but if they are both willing to make it work, it can be done.

Capricorn Moon is serious and may be rather cynical. They don't show their emotions and would rather not show any vulnerability either. Aquarius Moon is exuberant, optimistic and sociable. They intellectualize their feelings and are often unaware of their own emotional needs, let alone those of their partner.

They both want to succeed, though they have different goals. Capricorn wants to attain advancement and security, while Aquarius wants to change the world. Capricorn enjoys a traditional relationship and takes their responsibilities seriously. Aquarius resists the traditional and wants to try new things. Both partners are likely to feel inhibited when together. Capricorn feels a need to set boundaries while Aquarius can't help but try to break through them. They will have to work hard to overcome these differences.

Both partners may have difficulties when it comes to letting their emotions out. This can lead to a lot of resentment or hurt feelings because the other just doesn't understand what is wrong. When they do make this relationship work, it can be pretty good, however. If they feel inclined to work at it, they can complement each other nicely.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Aquarius Moon Compatibility with Aquarius Moon

Aquarius Moon with Aquarius Moon

Aquarius Moon doubled will be able to have a great understanding of each other. Similar feelings will be magnified in this relationship...both good and bad. This can make things either really good, or really bad, depending on the situation.

Both partners resist being stuck with traditional roles and traditional ideas. The relationship may be a bit unconventional. Neither partner feels domestic, so the home may suffer. Both of them overlook any uncomfortable emotions, letting them pile up inside until they can no longer contain them with denial. They both love change and like to be a part of social reforms. They will both tend to put their social concerns ahead of their family.

Aquarius Moon is very idealistic, and thinks that everyone should behave in a certain way. This may make it harder to deal with their own inner struggles. They want to be generous, fair and noble. They both appear rather detached emotionally. This relationship may work better as friends, since a warm romantic feeling may be missing. As friends, they could make the relationship into a lifelong connection, since there are fewer expectations from both partners than there is in a romantic relationship.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Aquarius Moon Compatibility with Pisces Moon

Aquarius Moon with Pisces Moon

Aquarius Moon and Pisces Moon have a good chance of making a go of a relationship. If one of them is willing to be more tolerant, their chances get even better. Both partners need to work on the relationship to get the most out of it.

Outgoing Aquarius Moon loves to join groups and feel a part of social change. Introverted Pisces is gentle, moody and reclusive. Both partners want to help humanity, but in different ways. Aquarius Moon will want to create sweeping social change, while Pisces Moon will want to help out one person at a time. Aquarius may not be able to get in touch with Pisces' feelings; Pisces is emotionally open to every little nuance around them and is affected by it.

Pisces may find Aquarius too detached to suit them. Aquarius will most likely find Pisces excessively emotional. Their vastly different ways of approaching the world may be too much for them to overcome. If they both work on the relationship, they could make good strides. Aquarius can learn some empathy from Pisces, and Pisces can learn to gain some distance and clarity from Aquarius. They can learn to work together on their common interests and branch out from there.

Pisces Moon Compatibility with Aries Moon

Pisces Moon with Aries Moon

Pisces Moon and Aries Moon may get along or they may not. If they are to stand a chance, one will have to make concessions to the other on a regular basis. They may find themselves conflicted over what they each want out of life.

Aries Moon likes to take action and be in charge, while Pisces Moon is gentle and passive. They prefer to just see where the current takes them. Aries is direct, enthusiastic and ready to face challenges while Pisces is vague and prefers not to face conflict of any kind. Aries feels a hurt, expresses themselves and moves on, while Pisces is so sensitive it is hard for them to let go of any hurt, however slight. Pisces may be clingy and needy while Aries is self-reliant. While they both follow their instincts, they react so differently that they may then spend quite a while trying to figure out where the misunderstanding occurred. They don't mean to offend the other, but they frequently do. They can't help it. They each just see things in such different ways.

It can be very difficult for Aries Moon not to dominate Pisces Moon. Their passivity and unfocused sense of personal direction makes it so easy for Aries to just ride right over them. If they make this pairing work, it is usually Pisces who compromises and ends up feeling unloved and unsupported...two things they need desperately. This is a very difficult relationship to make last without irreparable damage.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Pisces Moon Compatibility with Taurus Moon

Pisces Moon with Taurus Moon

Pisces Moon and Taurus Moon can be very happy. They can develop a strong bond of friendship and loyalty that will see them through any rough times. Both partners are loving, sympathetic and generous. They like a tranquil home, love nature and music. Plants and animals are dear to both partners in this relationship.

Taurus Moon is well grounded and practical; Pisces Moon is anything but grounded and is often impractical. These two partners have the ability to harmonize and complement each other as long as Taurus is in charge of practical matters. Taurus proves to be a good support for Pisces, who gives Taurus a bit of fantasy in their life.

Taurus can nurture sensitive Pisces when needed. Pisces can be empathetic when Taurus needs it. They each bring some balance to the relationship. Together they can create a magical, peaceful home. Neither partner likes conflict; both are rather passive unless aroused. This pairing can fare very well for the long term as long as Taurus Moon takes care of the practical aspects.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Pisces Moon Compatibility with Gemini Moon

Pisces Moon with Gemini Moon

Pisces Moon and Gemini Moon will have many challenges that will require some compromises. This pairing could work, but they really have very little in common. Both are impressionable in different ways; Gemini is sensitive to thoughts and Pisces is sensitive to feelings. Intellect meets intuition.

Gemini Moon is rational, restless, logical and objective while Pisces is receptive, sympathetic, artistic, passive and idealistic. Somewhere in the middle they meet with imagination and irresponsibility. Their differences are many. Gemini treats emotions very lightly and Pisces feels them deeply. Gemini grows through taking in more information while Pisces grows by letting go and trusting in a power greater than themselves. Gemini is focused on the future while Pisces dwells in the past. Gemini Moon is challenged by Pisces' erratic moods. Pisces Moon is threatened by Gemini's attempt to experience feelings as if they were just thoughts.

Dreamy Pisces Moon may be offended when witty Gemini Moon makes a joke in an attempt to deal with all the emotion flying around. If Gemini Moon can learn to take Pisces' feelings into account and understand their sensitivity...and if Pisces Moon can learn to appreciate Gemini's ability to be objective and rational, they can find a middle ground upon which to thrive together.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Pisces Moon Compatibility with Cancer Moon

Pisces Moon with Cancer Moon

As a couple, Pisces Moon and Cancer Moon rate a perfect ten. They have very similar motivations and desires. They are extremely happy together and will have a long relationship. They have a great deal in common.

Both partners are very receptive and can intuit the moods of those around them. They have an innate knowing of each other's inner needs. Both partners are nurturing and sympathetic, ready to run to their partner at a moment's notice to help them out. They will create a peaceful home that will allow them to replenish their souls and deepen their emotional bond.

Cancer Moon looks out for the material needs while Pisces Moon looks out for their spiritual needs. They understand each other extremely well. They share many similarities. They may be able to communicate with each other without speaking, knowing intuitively what the other replies. They both need to take care not to absorb the troubles and emotions of those around them. Their empathy can end up hurting them. This will be a very thoughtful, tender relationship of quiet fulfillment.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Pisces Moon Compatibility with Leo Moon

Pisces Moon with Leo Moon

Pisces Moon and Leo Moon need to take care. One may feel they are always bending over backwards to make the other one happy. This may end up being a very unbalanced relationship. Even though there is a strong attraction, it may be very difficult to deal with the everyday routine of a long term relationship.

Pisces Moon and Leo Moon do share some goals. They both find home and family very important. They just look at the world in very different ways. Leo Moon will run the show with their natural authority. This also fulfills their need to be the center of attention. Pisces Moon tends to be gentle and very receptive of other people's feelings. They will tend to overlook their own needs and desires to keep Leo happy. Leo Moon is warm, loud, boisterous and melodramatic. Pisces tends to feel victimized and full of melancholy. They may soak up some of Leo's confidence, however, which can be a good thing. They may both misunderstand the other because they tend to see things their way or how they want them to be. Leo is a bit narcissistic at times. In order to get what they want they may be loud or exaggerate.

In order for this relationship to truly be balanced, Pisces needs to step up and pursue their own dreams. Leo needs to understand that Pisces is not a doormat that should acquiesce to their every whim. Pisces tends to reflect the feelings around them, so this can be good when Leo is in a great mood. It can be very bad when Leo is feeling down, as Pisces is normally on the down side anyway.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Pisces Moon Compatibility with Virgo Moon

Pisces Moon with Virgo Moon

Pisces Moon and Virgo Moon can be a very good relationship or a very bad one. Technically these two signs are just barely compatible. If both partners are watching for intolerance or misunderstanding, they may be able to make their relationship work.

Virgo Moon is the perfect person to deal with the physical world and all its details. Pisces Moon, on the other hand, is disorganized, undisciplined and tends to have their head in the clouds. Some of these attributes may drive Virgo crazy, but they can also learn from Pisces' tolerant attitude. Likewise, Pisces could learn a thing or two about personal responsibility and boundaries from Virgo. Pisces Moon may get their feelings hurt by Virgo's critical nature. Both partners tend to be moody and pessimistic. They may both be a bit passive. If they learn to work together, they can be quite complementary to each other.

Once Pisces Moon and Virgo Moon learn to work together, their lives can run rather smoothly. Their shared introspection can help them to overcome adversity and they can divide the daily tasks according to their temperaments. They should have a lovely, nurturing home life once they iron out the kinks.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Pisces Moon Compatibility with Libra Moon

Pisces Moon with Libra Moon

Pisces Moon and Libra Moon share a lot of romance and desire, but they really don't have a lot more in common. If they are willing to work at their relationship, they may find that they each have just enough to fulfill the other. The relationship could also end up being so sweet that neither partner can stomach it.

Libra Moon is social, diplomatic, and likes everything to be in order. Pisces Moon is sensitive, intuitive and disorganized. Both like a peaceful environment without conflict. To make the most of this relationship, Libra must go into it with willing to see everything that goes on. Pisces must be very honest. If they don't do this, Libra will diplomatically dismiss things that Pisces does, and Pisces will subtly manipulate with their emotional scenes.

If they can bring a sense of moderation to the relationship, they may make it work. Pisces Moon has a tendency towards excess in all things, so this may be difficult. Pisces seems to prefer relationships where one partner gives to the other, while Libra wants it equal and balanced, with both partners in a give and take as needed.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Pisces Moon Compatibility and Scorpio Moon

Pisces Moon with Scorpio Moon

Pisces Moon and Scorpio Moon are made for each other. They understand each other well and respect their differences. They work together well and will likely have an emotional, long lasting relationship.

Both Pisces Moon and Scorpio Moon are capable of moody behavior. They are intuitive and emotional. They can, in some cases, develop a psychic bond. Their shared sensitivity helps them meet the other's needs. Scorpio needs intense emotions. They may find this in love, anger, fear, loyalty, sex, revenge or obsession. Pisces wants harmony and to avoid conflict, whereas Scorpio loves conflict. This may cause upset if not openly discussed.

Both are great manipulators and their secrets and emotional intimacy will bind these two together deeply. Pisces Moon is very forgiving and tolerant, while Scorpio Moon longs to retaliate. It isn't too difficult for these two to work through their differences though. They share the most important part for both of them: the emotional intimacy.

They may share an interest in the occult or other secrets. This also gives them a sense of belonging to each other.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Pisces Moon Compatibility with Sagittarius Moon

Pisces Moon with Sagittarius Moon

Pisces Moon and Sagittarius Moon will need to make some compromises to work out their relationship. They are not very well matched. Sagittarius' enthusiasm can be overwhelming for Pisces.

These two do have several things in common. They both tend to make promises they have no way of keeping, they are both generous and have no idea of what boundaries are in relationships, and they both may develop keen intuition. Sagittarius Moon is a bit blunt and overbearing for the sensitive Pisces. Sagittarius doesn't even realize that their bluntness can hurt the feelings of others. Pisces Moon is shy and would rather stay at home than go out to a loud party.

They do tend to attract each other, however. The optimism that is natural to Sagittarius powers up Pisces imagination. It is hard for them to make anything long lasting from this relationship, though, due to their incompatibilities. Both partners tend to be on the dreamy side, and may have a hard time getting anything accomplished. Tender Pisces isn't cut out for the brash, adventurous world of Sagittarius. Sagittarius can be very insensitive, especially when they are caught up in their enthusiastic plans for their next adventure. To make this relationship work, both partners would have to be willing to make definite changes and be willing to stick to them.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Pisces Moon Compatibility with Capricorn Moon

Pisces Moon with Capricorn Moon

Pisces Moon and Capricorn Moon are about as different as they come. They can be loyal friends, but they approach the world in such different ways that it is hard for them to come together as a couple. While Capricorn is detached emotionally, Pisces is raw emotion, open to any influences that may be nearby.

Capricorn is responsible and hard working. They are focused and loyal. Pisces is irresponsible, dreamy and unorganized. They are passive and moody. Pisces Moon has an idealistic approach to relationships, while Capricorn Moon wants a firm commitment. Pisces can be clingy, which Capricorn may find extremely annoying.

In rare instances, these two can be compatible if they can work out their differences. In these cases, they are able to be complementary to each other. Capricorn can take care of the outside world, while Pisces learns some responsibility and takes care of the home front. Capricorn can teach Pisces how to make the most of their creativity, while Pisces can teach Capricorn how to release their emotions. When this pairing works, it goes to show that with enough love and determination, any couple has the potential to work.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Pisces Moon Compatibility with Aquarius Moon

Pisces Moon with Aquarius Moon

Pisces Moon and Aquarius Moon have a good chance of making a go of a relationship. If one of them is willing to be more tolerant, their chances get even better. Both partners need to work on the relationship to get the most out of it.

Outgoing Aquarius Moon loves to join groups and feel a part of social change. Introverted Pisces is gentle, moody and reclusive. Both partners want to help humanity, but in different ways. Aquarius Moon will want to create sweeping social change, while Pisces Moon will want to help out one person at a time. Aquarius may not be able to get in touch with Pisces' feelings; Pisces is emotionally open to every little nuance around them and is affected by it.

Pisces may find Aquarius too detached to suit them. Aquarius will most likely find Pisces excessively emotional. Their vastly different ways of approaching the world may be too much for them to overcome. If they both work on the relationship, they could make good strides. Aquarius can learn some empathy from Pisces, and Pisces can learn to gain some distance and clarity from Aquarius. They can learn to work together on their common interests and branch out from there.

Return to Moon Sign Compatibility

Pisces Moon Compatibility with Pisces Moon

Pisces Moon with Pisces Moon

Pisces Moon paired with another Pisces Moon will share many of the same interests and understandings, but this does not serve to make them overly compatible. Pisces is very dreamy and moody...double that and you see what happens. When both are moody at the same time, it is magnified and they may find it difficult to move on.

While they may make the best of chums with a close, sympathetic relationship, a double Pisces Moon couple may end up being too emotional to accomplish much of anything. When it is good, they are very perceptive and can gain a powerful psychic ability. They can be artistic and imaginative, but because of their disorganization and lack of discipline, they may not be able to utilize these skills and talents. They may both end up losing themselves in drugs or other methods of escapism if they are not careful. They can also be taken advantage of easily because of their giving natures. Their compassion can be both a blessing and a curse because of that. Pisces cannot help themselves when they see someone who needs their help. They are not good at setting boundaries, and with both partners in the same boat, they may end up completely run down and drained.

If a double Pisces Moon couple takes the time to work things out and build up their skills in organization and discipline, they may be able to make it work. They will be able to capitalize on their good qualities and overcome their negative ones.